FOREWARD TO 1988 FAMILY BOOK

I really appreciate those of you who took the time to respond to my queries for information and histories. Without you there would not be a book.

This year we have compiled a set of family group sheets for each of the married children and grandchildren of Eugene and Lillie Memmott. As much as is possible they are accurate and up-to-date. In some cases they are not complete since I had no way of getting the information. If your family group or one of your childrens fall in that category you may still submit the missing information and I will put it into the computer so that when I make up another set they will be complete then. Hopefully, from now on with the information we receive each year we can keep them up-to-date. If you wish to keep yours up-to-date you can simply take the information from the family book each year and neatly enter it onto the appropriate sheet. Hopefully, in future years, we can make up a new family group for each person who gets married in that year.

We hope you enjoy the book.

We are busy entering all the information we have on all our ancestors into the computer. When that task is completed we will be able to make up a pedigree chart from anyone in the family we wish to. We will be able to make up family group sheets on anyone in the pedigree. It is our intention to make this information available to everyone who wishes to have it in a bound form. If you are interested in obtaining a copy please let me know. It will be some time before it is available since there is still much to do to finish entering the names.

May you have a great 1989.

Love

Glenda

MISSIONARIES NOW AND IN THE FUTURE

Sometimes it is fun to speculate and project the future. Since there have been many representatives of Eugene and Lillie Memmott's family who have served missions I thought it would be fun to share a projection of the possibilities of future missionaries from this ever-growing family.

I discovered that those presently serving missions are:

GREGG FLOYD HASTINGS-San Diego, California
KENT ALAN MEMMOTT-Rochester, New York
TAMARA LEE HANSEN-Copenhagen, Denmark
ALVIN DALE BLACK-Okayama, Japan
WESLEY EARL BLACK-Albuquerque, New Mexico (Spanish Speaking)

Given that the age requirements stay the same for boys and girls and that none of the grandchildren and great-grandchildren marry before serving or chose not to go on missions these are the possibilities:

THERE ARE 89 POSSIBLE OVER THE NEXT 21 YEARS. IF YOU ADD THE PARENTS OF SOME OF THESE PEOPLE WHEN THEY ARE RETIRED WE COULD GO OVER THE 100 MARK. THIS COULD BE A LITERAL FULFILLMENT OF MOM'S BLESSING WHERE SHE WAS TOLD THAT SHE WOULD HAVE MANY OF HER POSTERITY SERVE MISSIONS.

IF YOU CAN'T HAVE THE BEST OF EVERYTHING, MAKE THE BEST OF EVERYTHING YOU HAVE.

Relationship of Submitter to Husband _____ Wife _____

HISTORY OF WILLIAM FRANK ADAMS

This part of Frank's history up to his marriage, was told by him February 6, 1986, to his wife, Alice, as she copied it. This was told two days before he became so ill he could not speak. He died Mar 28, 1986.

I, William Frank Adams, was born 5 Mar 1917, at 3:00 A.M. in Kanab, Kane, Utah to two wonderful parents.

Alexander Adams, my father, was born 21 Jan 1872, in Kanab, Utah, to Nathan Adams and Mary Malinda Plunkett.

My mother, Martha Jane Cameron, was born 4 June 1887, in Panguitch, Iron, Utah, to William Cameron Jr. and Georgianna Seavey.

I was the second child, as I had an older brother, Nathan Cameron Adams, born 28 Jan 1916, in Kanab also.

I was born in a log home belonging to my uncle. Father and Mother lived in two rooms and my uncle and aunt and two children lived in two rooms.

My mother was very ill during her pregnancy with me and had to spend alot of time in bed.

I was blessed and given a name April 1, 1917, by Heber C. Meeks.

My father went on a mission to the Southern States and also on a mission to England.

He had quit school as a youth and had spent most of his time out on the range herding sheep. While on his mission he realized how important it was to have an education, so when he returned home he registered at Brigham Young Academy.

Mother had graduated from Ricks College and had come to BYU to take some classes. It happened they were in the same class together. When Dad saw my mother, he said, "That's the girl I'm going to marry." So he inquired about her and knew quite a bit of her history before he ever dated her.

Mom taught school in Midway for a year and then she married my father on 14 May 1913, in the Salt Lake Temple.

My cousin, Marva Adams, said he remembered my mother and thought she was the most beautiful woman he had ever seen.

Dad and Mother lived in Eureka for a short time and Dad worked in the mines. His older brother, Nate, asked him to come to Kanab and so that's the reason they were living in Kanab when I was born.

When I was six weeks old, my parents decided to move to Delta, Millard, Utah. My grandfather, William Cameron, my uncles, Clinton and Glen Cameron, and Aunt Georgianna were living in Delta and possible helped to influence the move to Delta.

Father bought forty acres of land located west of the overpass in Delta, Utah. The highway going to Hinckley now goes through part of the ground.

We lived in a two-roomed frame home with no modern conveniences, outdoor toilet, water tap outside, coal oil lamps, wood-burning stove which served two-fold, cooking and heating.

While here, my sister, Mary, was born on 22 September 1918. Mother was confined to bed for about ten days. She said that I went out on the highway to play. Mother sent Cameron, who was only fourteen months older than me to bring me off the road. Either I wouldn't cooperate or he thought what I was doing looked exciting so he joined me and we went on playing oblivious to the danger we were in. Cars would honk but to no avail and finally someone got out of their car and moved us off the road. Mother was panicked as she lay helplessly in bed.

I loved insects and all creeping things. One day, Mother heard me laughing and came out to see what the fun was. She found me with a grasshopper fastened to my nose. I would pull it away, and then let it grab hold of my nose again. It must have tickled as I did this.

Mother also tells how I used to play in the mud. The road north of the house was really a good place to play, plenty of deep slushy mud. I was in the middle of it. My mother tried to persuade me to leave my favorite pastime without her coming in to join me, but instead, I threw mud balls at her. She was forever taking us in the house and giving us a bath.

My brother, Clarence T. Adams, was born when I was about four years old. He was born on 13 April 1921. Shortly after that, my father leased eighty acres on shares from Mr. Melvill. Father would do the work and then gave Melvill half the profits. The farm was located northwest of Delta across the street from where my brother Cameron later moved after he was married.

This home had six rooms. The water was still piped outside and had to be carried in the house and to the livestock. There was a barn and granary and an outdoor toilet on the property.

Dad raised milk cows. We separated the milk and sold it and the cream for extra money. We also raised Alfalfa and grain and Mother raised chickens.

When I was very young, we had a big white rooster. He was really a beauty. His tail feathers curved over and nearly touched the ground. He would strut and crow and loved to pick a fight. One day he jumped on me and gave me a nasty scratch under the eye. My folks were so angry they killed him for fear next time he would get someone in the eye.

Father worked at the sugar factory and drove a black team of horses, plowing beets and then hauling them to the factory. The sugar factory agreed to put electric light in our home if we would raise so many acres of sugar beets, so Father agreed and it was an exciting day when we had electricity. It made us wonder how we ever saw with our kerosene lamps.

Our mode of transportation was horse and buggy. When Mother had to go to town or to a meeting, she would send Cameron and I to the field to bring the horses in. We were just little guys. Cameron would throw the rope several times to get it over the horses neck, then he would swing the rope to lower the horse's head so we could put the bridle on. We would lead the horse to a ditch, put him in the ditch, then we would get on the bank and climb on the horse and ride to the barn. Mother would then harness the horse to the buggy so we could go to town.

We walked two miles to school and church and two miles home. In the evening we had a lot of chores: cows to milk, wood to chop and wood and chips to bring in the house so Dad could build the fires. He agreed to build them if I had the wood and chips in.

One evening I forgot to get my wood in. So bright and early the next morning he got me out of bed and I not only had to go out in the dark and cold and complete my chore, but I had to build all the fires. It was a good lesson for me. I made sure the chore was taken care of from then on.

In the summer we loved to run up the roads bare-foot with the warm soft dirt squeezing between our toes.

One of our chores in the summer was to herd cows on the canal banks. We would turn the cows so they would come back down the canal, then we would go swimming in the canal. When the trains came by we would scamper under a bridge so people in the train couldn't see us "skinny dipping".

Sometimes we would take the horse with us and take the cows up by the reservoir. We would get on the horse, ride it up to the bank, and jump it into the reservoir. As the horse would swim back to the bank, we would hang onto the tail and let him pull us to shore. At first, the horse didn't seem to want to jump, but later I think he enjoyed it as much as we did.

For Christmas one year, Mother took us to town to see Santa Clause. I asked him for a pair of ice skates. Christmas morning Cameron and I were surprised to find a pair of ice skates. We were really excited.

We went to our neighbors pond and as we learned to skate we started to dare each other go a little farther out on the pond. One day our friend fell through and we were so frightened. We grabbed planks and boards and finally pulled him to safety. We built a big bonfire trying to warm him up and then we took him home. We didn't care to go skating much after that.

When I was about seven years old, I was helping my father by tramping hay. I had to be on the wagon and tramp it down so they could stack more hay on. A pitchfork tine went through my cheekbone. It became infected and I became very ill with a high fever and my skin covered with a rash, and terrible convulsions.

My father finally took me to a clinic in Salt Lake. Fifteen different doctors told my father they could do nothing more for me and sent me home to die. They said I had bright's disease, puss in the cheek bones, and my tonsils were decayed. They took my tonsils out, but felt that was all they could do to help me.

Richard R. Lyman gave me a blessing. My father brought me home on the train, put me to bed, and slept by me. Through the night, my father had a dream. A man came to him, took hold of his shoulders, looked at him, and then to the east, and said, "You go down there, they will tell you Israel can't do anything."

Then he saw a plane flying low and it seemed to be lost. A purple hankie was dropped from the plane and floated down on the roof of our house.

My father felt that I was going to be okay. He woke my mother and told her he felt I had been healed by the power of the Priesthood.

This was in the autumn. Around Christmas, I had intestinal flu, my ears had infection, they broke and drained and I had pneumonia. Mother said I was so ill she thought I was dying. By March I was completely well.

I was baptized when eight years of age on 7 June 1925, in the irrigation canal by Anthony W. Stephenson Jr. and confirmed a member of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints on 9 June 1925, by David D. Terry.

I had been ill for two years and had missed alot of school, so when I did start I was behind and the teachers didn't take that much interest in me.

When I was in the fourth grade, Hazel Judd Grooning took an interest in me and would have me stay after school and would help me read until she felt I had mastered it. She was a great teacher and I always felt a closeness to her and am grateful that she had taken the time to help me.

On 20 July 1925, a new baby joined our family. She was a beautiful baby and I remember we were all so proud of her. My father named her Georgianna.

When I was eleven another beautiful sister was born 16 September 1928. She was named Martha Mae. Then on 9 April 1931, a brother, John, was born. I was fourteen. It was good to have a new brother. He had dark hair and was a beautiful baby.

When I was sixteen, my baby sister, Gevene, was born. She was a beautiful baby, but I was so busy with school and helping on the farm, I didn't have much time to play and enjoy them.

My father bought a new Model T Ford and the family decided to take a trip to Idaho to see my mother's sister and husband, Mae and Edgar Fullmer and our cousins. Dad and Mom, Aunt Mae and Uncle Edgar went on to Yellowstone. We stayed with our cousins.

I remember it rained so hard that water was running everywhere. We took tubs and boilers and would float down the gutter. What a lot of fun. I'll bet the tubs had a leak in them when we got through. We didn't want to go home when the time came.

Mother used to tell us how she learned to drive the car. She was on the Relief Society Stake board and had to visit wards and attend a lot of meetings. She depended on my father to drive her to her different areas, This meant he had to stop his work and felt too much time was being wasted. So one day he told her she was to learn to drive.

He explained all she should do, then told her to drive home alone. (He was brave, he would rather walk.) She did fine until she arrived home and was going to park the car in the garage. She couldn't remember where the brake was and she went through the back of the garage.

When I was first learning to drive a car at age 13, I was racing with Ervin Jeffery. I lost control of the car and tipped it over. It was an old Model A. Ervin and I just tipped it back up on it's wheels and pounded out the fenders. I didn't get to drive for a few months, however.

In the summer, Mother and I and some of the other children gleaned all the seed on the ditches and put it through the thrasher. We had enough to buy our first bike. What a thrill that was. I pumped Mother to town one day on that bike.

I was ordained a Deacon 7 Apr 1929, by Foster V. Kirby. I was ordained a Teacher 13 Mar 1932, by Herman W. Stucki and a Priest 16 September 1934, by Norman Gardner.

Clarence and I were very close as brothers and I dearly loved him. He was studious, intelligent, loved to discuss politics with Dad and never seemed to complain even though he didn't have too good of health. We herded cows together and one time when we were bringing them home, we passed the home of a Mr. Miller who owned the Miller Honey business. He said, "Here's a five gallon can of honey for this guy with the big smile," and he presented Clarence with the honey.

Usually in the fall, Dad would take us boys, the team, and wagon and we would go into the mountains to gather wood for winter. This was used to heat our home and cook the meals. On one occasion when my father couldn't go, my brother Clarence and I went alone. We usually had to stay overnight as we couldn't make the trip in one day. We pitched our tent and through the night it rained really hard and turned off very cold.

The next morning as we started home, we were caught in a flash flood. We came to a wash that had filled with water and was so high that we couldn't cross. We had to wait nearly two hours until the water had subsided before we could cross. Then we had to dig the banks down so we could get across.

About fourteen miles out of town we were caught in a blizzard. We were both wet and very cold. A car came by and I sent Clarence home to get some help. I got down from the wagon to keep from freezing to death, but I was so frozen, I could hardly walk.

Father finally came with a neighbor and relieve me and I rode home with the neighbor. My mother bathed me in cold water until I could feel it, then gradually got the water warmer until the chill was gone. She had a warm supper for me and I was really thankful for the warmth of my bed that night and the safety of my home. Father taught us many things when we were gathering wood.

One sport we really looked forward to in the winter was to go sleigh riding. The neighbor kids all got together and we built a huge sleigh from 2x4's and inch boards. We put an old metal barrel in the middle of the sleigh then we would build a big fire in it to keep warm. We would hitch several teams of horses to it, then fasten several sleighs behind and all the neighbor kids, the Bassett's, Bishop's, Rawlinson's would ride the sleighs.

When we got cold we would go up to the big sleigh and get warm

The snow would drift so bad that it covered the tops of the fences so we could ride all over the fields and really had a good time.

In the winter in the cold evenings we enjoyed parching corn. We would put the dry corn in a frying pan with a little butter and stir it until it would brown and swell up and it was delicious.

Dad would usually take the day off from working on the farm and we would go to town on the 4th of July to watch the parade. One year I was to dress as Abraham Lincoln and was in the parade. Mother would make a freezer of ice cream which we enjoyed after the parade.

One float in the parade was a black horse and someone put a sign on it which read, "Here lies the town council." From then on our parades seemed to be better.

We had an old black cow that was so gentle and sometimes I would ride her home after herding cows instead of walking.

One night Clarence was walking home from mutual. He was hit by a car, but he brushed himself off and walked home. The next morning he couldn't find his glasses. Then he remembered they might have fallen off when he was hit by the car. That was the first anyone knew he had been hit. He never did complain.

He and I would sweep the open air dance hall and the Palomar dance hall, which gave us a free ticket to the dances on Saturday night. We also operated a skating rink together. We learned to skate very well and could do some fancy dance steps, figure 8's and skate backwards. We had a lot of fun and enjoyed working together.

Clarence and I always worked together pitching hay. Father used to exchange work with a neighbor, David Terry. David had good machinery, a team of horses, but no boys, so Dad, Clarence and I would help him, then he would bring his machinery and help us.

One day Clarence was mowing the hay with Mr. Terry's team, when the hay got plugged in the knife of the mower. Clarence stopped the team and was getting the hay unplugged when something spooked the horses, and they started to run. It caught Clarence so that both feet were under the cutter bar and his left arm over the tongue of the mower. He could not reach the lines to the horses and they ran at breakneck speed around the field, over ditches, and irrigation dikes.

I saw what was happening, ran across the field until I was in front of the run-away team and jumped between them onto the tongue of the mower, took hold of the bits of the horses and brought them to a stop.

Clarence's shoe and stocking had been cut by the mower knife, but his foot was not. Those watching thought both of us were going to be killed and I'm surprised we weren't. Later, when Clarence developed heart problems, some thought this accident could have caused some damage.

As children and even when we got older, we loved to play with other kids in the neighborhood. Games like "kick the can", "run, sheep run" and "I want a beacon." or we would build a fire outside and roast potatoes.

Clarence and I bought a tennis racket and would practice hitting the tennis ball against the pump house just outside the back door. Sometimes we took old barrel staves, tied them on our feet and took turns skiing across the field or I would take an old wheelbarrow and put the little kids in and run them all over the yard.

Clarence and I did alot of work for Hazel and Pete Gronning. They had a son, Sam, who was deaf. We would teach him to swim in the canal and sort of looked out for him. When I was in high school, Mr. Gronning had a lot of doggy lambs. On my way home from school, he would give me a lamb now and then. I carried them home. Dad and Mom taught me how to take care of them. I finally had a pretty good herd of sheep. Father bought a buck sheep, so we could raise a few of our own. They usually produced twins. In the summer Father would put them with another herd to feed on the range, so they wouldn't interfere with the farming.

We developed quite a herd of sheep and by selling the wool, I was able to save enough to put myself on a mission. And later when the sheep were sold, it brought enough money to buy the home in Delta town where the folks lived for the rest of their lives.

One time after I had sold some wool, I had around $250.00 in my wallet. Clarence and I went to feed sheep for our neighbor, Mr. Grundy. When I came home that night I could not find my wallet. I searched everywhere. Money was scarce and I was so depressed. The next spring, Mr. Grundy found the wallet with all the money in it in his manger where I had been feeding the sheep. We felt like it was a miracle that it had been found.

In the summer when we harvested the seed, the thrashing crew which consisted of all our neighbors would come to our place and help thrash the seed. Mother would cook enough food to serve them all dinner. Then they would move on to a neighbor's place and do the same for him. It created a closeness among all of us as neighbors and helped each other harvest their crops more reasonable.

I played on the basketball team as center in high school and tackle on the football team. Our coach was Jay Tolman. I enjoyed playing football. It's a game you play and express your feelings and get away with it.

We went to State in basketball and came in second. In football, we beat Fillmore our rival school and went to State and won third place. I really enjoyed sports.

I had a friend, N.S. Bassett, in high school who had been afflicted with polio which left him unable to walk. I would carry him up the stairs and down so he could attend school.

I was usually a pretty good guy, but now and then I had a little mischief in me. One day, a couple of my friends and I tied the tails of two cats together and hung them on the door of the librarian (Pearl Tangreen). Our principal, Mr. savage, had heart trouble and could not come upstairs. We walked quietly down the stairs through the gym doors and out. No one knew who the culprits were.

When playing ball one day, I received a bad floor burn. It turned into a bad case of blood poison and took several weeks to heal, but the doctor finally had to lance the sore, and drain the infection before it would heal.

I graduated from high school 21 May 1937. After graduation, I got a job working at Moody Brother's Seed Plant and Mill, where they rolled feed for cattle. I took these jobs on during the winter. I had to lift 100 pound bags of seed which help me to develop some great muscles.

INFORMATION TAKEN FROM FRANK'S JOURNALS
MY MISSIONARY EXPERIENCES

After I received my mission call, I had my patriarchal blessing on Jan 1, 1939, from Patriarch Edgar Jeffery.

I was called to serve in the East Central States mission which took in Kentucky, Tennessee, North Carolina, and parts of Virginia and West Virginia.

I received my endowments on 9 Jan 1939, in the Salt Lake Temple. That same day, I was also presented a pamphlet by President Heber J. Grant of his opening conference address. I was set apart for my mission on 11 Jan 1939, by Rufus K. Hardy.

When I left Salt Lake, I traveled by train to Denver, and then to Louisville, Kentucky, arriving 14 Jan 1939. I spent some time with my mission president, William Tew, his wife and other missionaries, receiving instructions.

On January 27, 1939, I arrived in Knoxville, Tennessee, and then on to Bristol, Tennessee. Bristol was a city divided down the middle of Main Street, with the state of Virginia on the other side.

My first companion was Elder Rodney C. Corbridge from Santa Monica, California. He was a great leader. He helped me in studying the scripture, taught me the technique of tracting. He was a super missionary, and I really enjoyed him as a companion. We were together for eight months.

Our first baptism was Sister Jones, who was disowned by her family for joining the church. I confirmed her and Elder Corbridge baptized her.

Our mode of transportation was hitch hiking, and we walked many miles, some days with no success. We finally learned that when we offered a word of prayer to the Lord for His help, we were more successful in getting a ride, and in having people listen to us.

On 21 Mar 1939, I became very ill for three days. I spent most of that time in bed while Elder Corbridge took care of me.

On 21 April we were to go to Knoxville, Tennessee, for a conference. We had to hitch hike which was 113 miles. We were caught in a rain storm for four hours before we finally got a ride.

On our way home, Elder Corbridge decided he was going to invest in a car. We had our fill of hitch hiking. And on the 29th of April we bought a car. The next day, Elder Corbridge became very ill and it was my turn to take care of him.

One day I was travelling from Kingsport to Bristol when I ran out of gas. I had to walk for two hours before I could find any gas, and then walk back two hours with the gas. This car turned out to be quite a problem, always breaking down and it continually had a flat tire. I was nominated to be the one to change tires and repair the car. (The beginning of my mechanical career.)

On May 2 and 3, we had another conference in Kingsport. Our car was broken down again so we rode with President Tew and Apostle Smith. We baptized Brother Daniels on the 2nd. We were instructed in conference to hold street meetings, so on 3 June we held our first meeting which drew a good crowd.

On 14 November 1939, I was sent to West Virginia and Elder Cox was my companion.

In June 1940, I was bothered continually with an appendicitis attack. The doctors felt I would have to have an operation. John Hopkins, from Afton, Wyoming, was my companion. President Tew consented to an operation, but I was administered to and never bothered with the pain again.

On the 29th October 1940, I had a new companion, Carlton C. Cope, and the next day we were transferred to Goldsborough, North Carolina. I was made Senior companion and spent the rest of my mission on Harkers Island in North Carolina. It was an Island 1/2 mile wide and one mile long. Most of the folks were fishermen. The only way we could get on the island was by Ferryboat which took about an hour. While we were on Harkers Island, we used bikes to get around.

Before I came home, I had the privilege to go on a shad boat with some of the members to catch shad fish which they used for fertilizer. I was on the boat for about a week and we ate nothing but fish and bacon. I couldn't stand to eat either for sometime after.

I was released from my mission at Harker's Island, North Carolina, 20 Jan 1941.

I took a bus from Beaufort, North Carolina to Salt Lake City, Utah, which was about a four day journey. I had a four hour lay over in Salt lake so I spent the time on Temple square, then caught the train for Delta.

I was met at the depot by my family and it was good to see all of them and to see how much they had grown.

Many times in our travels, we didn't have a place to stay at night. We slept on the ground one night, and after we had the car we slept in it several times. We found that after we bought the car, we were taking the sister missionaries many places.

On June 22, 1939, we left Marysville for Almont for another conference with President Tew. We baptized quite a few people in Almont. We stayed with Brother Talley several times in Bybee, Tennessee. One of his daughters, Grace, later married one of my wife's cousins, Ralph Memmott. He was on a mission in the same area.

On the 20th September 1939, Elder Corbridge was to go home, his mission completed. We had a little ice cream party in his honor the night before. He was such a great missionary we had developed a close friendship and I missed him very much.

My second companion was Elder Marcell Pitcher. His folks bought him a Model A Coupe which was always in need of repair and again I was given the honors to keep it running.

Elder LeRoy Adams from Panguitch, Utah, and an Elder Claybow were my companions for a short time.

In August, we had another conference with President Tew. We baptized five more people on 1 October 1939.

ARMY LIFE

August 28, 1941, I received a letter from Uncle Sam inviting me to report for duty in the Army. I was to report to the local board at Morehead City, North Carolina, at 3:00 P.M. on the 8th of Jan 1942. We were to bring enough clothing for three days and report for a physical. I reported at Fort Douglas in Salt Lake first, however.

I was put in the medical department attached to the Air Force in Paine Field, Everett, Washington. Here I received my basic training. My weekly wage was $35.00. I took out a $1,000.00 life insurance policy and they deducted .67 a month for the premium. I was 24 years and 10 months when I went in the army.

While in the medical department, I had to work with a lot of fellows who were seriously afflicted with venereal disease. It helped to convince me that the indulgence was not worth the agony, pain, and even death which some suffered.

I received word that my brother Clarence had died on the 11 Mar 1942. I was able to come home for his funeral and then had to go back to complete my training. About the time I had completed my basic training, the doctors said I had the mumps and they hospitalized me. While I was confined to the hospital my outfit was shipped out. The doctors still insisted I had the mumps, but I insisted I was okay. So they decided to have me eat the dill pickle, which tasted good with no side effects. So after that professional test they release me from the hospital and sent me to Washington D.C. in the 176th Infantry. I was assigned to guard the White House on the Capitol steps. I rode on a train as a guard for President Franklin D. Roosevelt when he went to Warm Springs, Georgia. President Roosevelt was a very friendly president. He always spoke to us and treated us kindly.

I was later transferred to Fort Benning, Georgia and we were trained for overseas duty. One day while I was out on the firing line, a General came out and called me back to the barracks and informed me I was being released to go home and help my father on the farm. This was August 28, 1943. If a farm family had more than one son in the service, a parent could request one to come home and help, which my father did. Cameron was in the service too, but I was the one Dad had released.

By Alice

I was working in the bakery at Delta, Utah. A girl I had taken Chemistry with in Delta High School, Georgianna Adams, came in with this tall good looking young man. They ordered hamburgers and malts and then the young man left. Georgianna asked if the young man had paid me, which he hadn't, so she did. I guess my first thought about him was, "That was kind of cheap of the guy to have his girl friend pay the bill."

I noticed him later with some other younger guys. They would come in and order malts, drinks, and etc. Then he would come in and play the punch board and usually win the candy. He never said too much to me.

One evening as I was closing the baker, he came in with Leonard Adams and his younger brother. They wanted me to go with them, so I took a lemon pie and we drove out by the reservoir. They played the car radio, we ate pie and danced on the bridge. I was introduced to this young man who was Frank Adams. We danced alot together that night and I thought he was O.K.

The next evening I had a date to go to the dance with Leonard. He was a friend who made himself "a pest." He wouldn't take no for an answer. He thought I was "his", but my feelings weren't the same. Anyway, when I got to the dance, Frank was there and we danced together most of the evening. He asked me to go home with him, which I did as the friend, Leonard, was put out with me because I had paid so much attention to Frank. (silly guy)

We dated off and on for a year and one evening in March we went with another couple up to the dam east of Delta and Frank proposed to me. We decided to get married on the 4th of June 1945, which was his mother's birthday, so that was what we did.

Our honeymoon cottage was a three-roomed house with an outdoor "john" and a long tub brought in on the kitchen floor to bathe in.

We lived with Franks folks for two weeks and worked so hard cleaning, papering and painting and had a darling little home when we finished and were so happy as if we had good sense (but not much money.) Frank was helping his father on the farm and that fall when they settled up and Frank came home with $500.00 we decided we had to find other employment.

He got a job in Salt Lake at a small car lot working as a mechanic for Arthur Flowers and with Alfred Adams. The 2nd world war was on and it was almost impossible to find an apartment so we moved in with the Flowers which was an experience. I found I was pregnant with Charalyne and this lady kept a rather odorous house as she had several dogs who lived in. I couldn't stand the aroma and we searched every day for a place to live and finally found an apartment or a bedroom. We had to share the kitchen and bath with two other couples. We continued to search, but to no avail. Since we weren't allowed to have children in this apartment, we finally decided to look for work in Delta country again. Frank worked for Carl Workman in Hinckley and we lived in their old house. Again, we had to do some major cleaning and fixing as he had been using it as a granary.

Charalyne was born 2 January 1947, while we lived here. In July 1948, Franks folks gave us a piece of their property in Delta and we bought an Army barracks from the Japanese concentration camp at Topaz, and moved it onto a foundation.

We were glad to have a place we could call our own, but it became a sore thumb to try and fix it into a livable home on the income we had.

Frank worked for Archie Barben hauling ore from a mine west of Delta and later went to work for the County Road Department and the Salt Lake-Delta Freight Lines.

Our first winter we nearly froze to death. We had no insulation in the building, a big wood burning stove and we had a hard time keeping warm.

It was during the winter of 1948, when Frank was driving for Salt Lake-Delta Freight lines, that he was stuck in a snow bank between Tuesday evening and Sunday evening. Luckily, he was driving a truck load of groceries for the Delta stores. Iona Hilton and her brother were stranded behind him and climbed up in his cab and he was able to run the heater in the truck and they all kept warm and they broke into some of the groceries and had something to eat. It was a tense few days before we knew where he was and if he was O.K.

We struggled in Delta for ten years trying to build the barracks into a home and raising three children. Frank always wanted to do mechanical work. He applied at the garages in Delta, but they wanted someone with "experience."

One day we saw an ad in the Salt Lake Tribune for a mechanic in Salt Lake. Frank got the job with Lang Company. We were so happy. We came back to Delta, sold our home and bought a home in Kearns.

After about two years, Lang Company sold out to Arnold Machinery and Frank transferred over there.

Frank worked hard as a mechanic and by the time he retired he was one of their top men. I think the highlight of his life was to be sent back to work on a machine that was owned by a man he had applied for a job from and had been told they wanted someone with experience.

He certainly did master that profession. His mother made the comment earlier in his life that he was Jack of all trades and master of none-but Frank mastered many things. There were very few things in life that he could not do and do well. After his accident of losing his hand he proved that if you keep trying and don't give up you can master anything. It was said by men who worked with him "that he could work circle around men with two hands." I hardly realized that he didn't have full use of his hand as he accomplished just as much around the house and yard as he had before.

Frank had many afflictions besides being ill when a child. After his marriage, he had his appendix removed, two hernia operations, was hit in the mouth by a sledge hammer and lost several teeth and had to have false ones put in.

He was hit on the ankle by a sledge hammer and came home with a sprained ankle, but we believe it could have been broken because it didn't heal well and always gave him trouble until later he had to have it fused because of the pain.

He lost his right hand in an industrial accident. He developed an ulcer and had the vega nerve cut to correct that. He had the veins in his right leg stripped.

And just as he was ready to retire and had planned to enjoy life and do a few things he wanted to do, he developed cancer.

He was always a happy, jovial guy, kind and loving, loved the Lord and tried to keep the commandments and set a good example for his family. He worked hard, could never be classified as lazy, even when ill, he still was trying to carry on and do the things he felt had to be done.

He unselfishly took in two Indian students and helped to provide for their needs at a time when it wasn't easy financially.

He raised five children, two sons and three daughters and had nineteen grandchildren at the time of his death and loved all of them very much.

Frank never complained about his trials or afflictions. He always bore them with patience and long suffering. He could be found saying "If you don't have something good to say about anyone, don't say anything."

Good timber does not grow in ease,
The stronger wind, the stronger trees;
The farther sky, the greater length,
The more the storms, the more the strength.
By sun and cold, by rain and snow,
In tree or man good timber grows
He that has no cross will have no crowns.

LOSS OF HIS HAND

May 12, 1971

Frank had been in Las Vegas working on a job. He came home tired. Our washer had gone on the blink so he spent a good part of the evening getting it fixed.

I had told my mother we would come and take her to dinner on the 12th for her birthday.

I was working at Granite Training school as an aid helping with handicapped children.

Dee Wayne had just returned from his mission in March.

Charalyne had had Cory in January and a lot of events had taken place.

I had just finished lunch at the school when Mashell called and said that someone from Arnold Machinery had called and said that Frank had hurt his hand and they had taken him to Holy Cross Hospital, but not to worry.

I felt a real urgency to go to the hospital, but I didn't have transportation. Mrs. Barton, the principal offered to take me.

As I went in the emergency room, a nurse followed me to the table where Frank lay. His right arm and hand were elevated on a board with a towel covering them.

When I inquired as to what had happened, Frank said, "Well, they are going to take my hand off, but it will be alright, don't worry." I couldn't believe what I was hearing. How would he stand this, but his concern was for me and I'm sure his heart was breaking with concern.

He had been working with two factory men on the pre-delivery of the Huff Payloader. They had been checking air pressure, speed of motor, and etc. They said they were through, so Frank said he would go take off the tachometer. Frank climbed down, went behind the machine and started to remove the tachometer when Jim Ross, the factory man who was in the seat of the cab, started the motor.

Frank screamed until he turned the motor off. Frank removed his arm and his hand was chewed and hanging by the tendon.

Gene Phyfer helped him to the shop floor and applied pressure and gave orders to call an ambulance. Bill Jenkins went to the hospital with Frank.

While I was standing there, the towel fell off and Frank's fingers were sticking out from the bandage and were black.

The doctor told me there was nothing could be done to save the hand, as it was in pieces. He also said, "You can be glad your husband is not a drug addict. I have given him enough morphine to kill him and he is still wide awake." They took Frank to surgery about 5:00 P.M. At 10:00 P.M. he was in his room with his right hand missing.

I stayed with him for a week all day and half the night. He had a constant flow of visitors, cards, and flowers.

I went back to work a week to the day after his accident. He had acted so brave and was trying so hard to do for himself, never showing any depression or despair.

I came to visit after work. The curtains were drawn around his bed. He had been crying. The doctor had been with him most of the afternoon talking to him and had finally given him a sedative.

I asked him if he would like to have his brother John come and give him a blessing which John and Frank's boss did. Frank went to sleep shortly after that.

I left a note when I went home telling him that if he woke up and wanted to talk to call me and also that I loved him. When I called him in the morning he told me that the note meant alot because as he had laid there and had to sign his name with an X he was afraid I didn't love him because he would be useless.

When he was released from the hospital, they made an appointment to have a prosthesis fitted to his arm.

The day we were to pick it up, they put it on Frank and showed him how to operate it, then put his shirt on and sent him on his way.

As I sat there and watched, I was sick at heart. I wanted to cry, scream, throw-up, whatever you could do to release your emotions. How could he ever stand to wear that contraption.

When we arrived at the car, Frank unbuttoned his shirt, pulled the prosthesis off, threw it in the back seat, put his shirt back on and got into the car. I knew the feelings of his heart.

A few days after he got home, he put the prosthesis on and tried to do things with it and he succeeded. Eventually there wasn't anything he couldn't do except button the shirt on his left sleeve. He also learned to print with his left hand.

He suffered pain in the hand area. He said he felt like his hand was tied in knots. There was tenderness where the prosthesis wore, and agony and disgust when he couldn't accomplish what he wanted to do, but he never gave up.

On one of his visits back to the hospital to have the prosthesis checked, the doctor asked him if he wanted to talk to a young man who had lost his hand and wanted to die. He did go visit with him and tried to give him hope and told him he must keep trying and not give up. And that certainly was what Frank did.

He had many days of frustration, nervousness and would take long walks, but never wanted to talk about his feelings. I'm sure this would have released some of his tensions and helped our relationship as conversation became less and less which seemed to build a wall between us. I think he felt if he kept all his feelings to himself, he would save me a lot of worry, but little did he know how much more concern it did create.

FRANK'S ORDEAL WITH CANCER

June 1, 1984, Dee Wayne called and invited Frank and I to go with him and Jolyn to dinner. We were to be at his place at 6:00 P.M.

When we arrived, Dee Wayne was still in his grubbys and out by his car. When we walked in, Jolyn said, "Have you seen Dee Wayne's latest project in the back yard?"

We followed her through the kitchen. Standing in the corner were all our children and grandchildren yelling "Surprise" and "Happy Anniversary."

We were really surprised and happy. They had fixed a lovely barbecue and gave us six patio chairs. Charalyne and all of her children were even there, so it was a very special day for us.

We had been concerned because Frank had found a lump under his right arm about the size of a dime. We had been to Dr. Wilson and he had scheduled a biopsy for Monday morning June 4, our 39th anniversary.

Monday morning we took Frank to the hospital. We were all concerned for fear it could be cancer. All the children were there except Charalyne, she was out to Doug's.

While Frank was in surgery, Doug, Pam, Dee Wayne, Jolyn, Mashell, and Darla took me out to have a sandwich.

When we came back, Frank was awake, and said the doctor had been looking for me and wanted to talk to me. We waited until 6:00 p.m. that evening and still couldn't make contact with him, so I took Frank home. He wasn't feeling good, so I fed him, gave him some pills for pain and put him to bed.

At 8:00 P.M. Dr. Wilson called and told me Frank had cancer. They diagnosed it as Hodskins disease.

My world fell out from under me. I literally went to pieces. I called the children to tell them. I was crying and so upset. The doctor told me that he didn't think it was too serious, but to me cancer in any form meant death and to think he was going to have to go through all that pain and suffering made me sick at heart.

Dee Wayne and Jolyn came out and all the kids were here but Doug and Pam. We were sitting in the front room talking. I had been crying. Frank woke up to go to the bathroom, came in the front room, but never said anything about his condition. I am sure he sensed something was wrong, but I couldn't tell him.

I had called my home teacher, Bob Wood, and he called the Bishop. They came over to give me a blessing that I could get control of myself. I had to have strength to tell Frank. I had to be strong. I never slept all night.

Morning came and I went in the bedroom as Frank was getting up. I finally got the courage to tell him. He never said anything, just gave a deep sigh, but he did alot of walking back and forth through the house.

The doctor told me the cancer had wrapped itself around nerves and that there were several large lumps they didn't get, but they felt radiation would take care of it.

The next day we went to the Cowan Cancer Clinic. As we took the elevator to the basement, a sick feeling came over me. We walked into the office and watched the many people who came and left with their different degrees of illness. I talked to some and felt their anxieties and despair and my heart ached for them.

Frank started radiation 21 June 1984 and finished radiation 2 August 1984. He was so brave. He took the radiation 5 days a week for six weeks, which left him ill, lifeless and the final treatment left him with a third degree burn on his body where the radiation had been. It took a week of treatment with a salve to clear it up.

Frank spent many restless nights walking in the yard or sitting up on the patio, but never really talking about his feelings on anything. He seemed to withdraw.

They told him when he finished his radiation treatments that he was one of the lucky ones. If he had to have cancer, he had the best kind as it was more susceptible to treatment.

I was hoping it was so, but he never seemed to feel any better.

On the 3rd of July, we brought Mom out her. We planned to take her to the parade in Provo and have a picnic after. I was preparing supper and Frank offered to go to the store to pick up a few items for the picnic.

It seemed like he had been gone too long and as I mentioned this to my mother, the phone rang and it was a nurse at the American Fork Hospital telling me that Frank had been in an accident.

I left Mom and had a neighbor, Marily Viccrelli, take me to the hospital. Frank was hurt badly. He had gone through a stop sign and hit another man broadside. The man was drunk and his driver's license had been revoked for three years. Frank was still considered at fault.

Alden and Inga Mae sent Connie and Karen to the hospital to pick us up and let us take their car as the front of ours was totaled out. We were really grateful to them.

Two days before the accident, I awoke about 4:00 A.M. The thought came to me "pay the car insurance." I got out of bed and went in the office to check on my car insurance. Had it been paid? I found I hadn't paid it and the deadline was the next day. I made out the check and got it in the mail, and the next day Frank had the accident. I was grateful for that inspiration.

Dee Wayne and Jolyn came with their van and took us to the parade and on a picnic. Frank was not feeling well, but went along and endured.

Our car was taken to a junkyard. Our home teacher, Bob Wood, recommended a Mr. McMurdy, a body and fender man, to fix our car. He went and looked at it and said he could fix it. It took him three months to get it running again.

About August 31, 1984, I had been cleaning the garage. Frank had been coming out watching then sitting on the patio. Towards evening he tried to tell me something and couldn't seem to get the words out. The second time I thought he was having a stroke. I brought him in and had him lay on the couch while I cleaned up. Then I drove him to the American Fork Hospital.

After he had his radiation treatment, he was so terrible thirsty, so he was drinking continually which cause his electrolytes to go out of control.

They put him in the hospital and had him there for about a week until they could get him under control. He lost alot of fluid and was 185 pounds when he came home.

Frank kept having chills, fevers, and sweating. He had a bad cough which we couldn't clear up. November 1, 1984, I took him to a Dr. Tate in Pleasant Grove. He put him in the American Fork Hospital and put him through a complete series of tests again. He checked with an oncologist, Dr. Bott, in Provo. They decided he should have his spleen removed. I asked him to check with Dr. Ford.

Dr. Ford said, "No." He wanted him sent to LDS Hospital. Again they ran him through a series of tests and did a liver biopsy and told him he couldn't turn over. He didn't feel good at all. I stayed with him all night and sat in a chair to make sure he didn't turn over.

The next morning, Frank was not feeling well at all. His vital signs were low and he seemed to be in a coma and was not responding to people.

I went over to Mashell and Darla's apartment to rest as I hadn't slept all night. At 10:00, I called Frank and he said he felt terrible and wanted me to come stay with him.

11 November, 1984, When I arrived, he seemed to be in a coma type condition again and was not responding. About 1:30 P.M. he awoke and told me he had seen

Clarence, his mother and father. He said, "Your father was even here. They were all to happy." He was crying as he told me this.

He said, "You are not to prolong my stay here." Frank did not want me to tell the kids.

About 4:00 in the afternoon his pulse was 89/50 and he was asleep. He mumbled these words. "I just told your Dad you were going out to get things straightened out." Later he said, "When we kept their plane there, they took ours and went back to Hollywood." The rest of the day and evening he was so restless.

12 November 1984, Frank was standing by his door. Doug and Pam had sent a big chicken with a singing telegram. She also left balloons and candy. This seemed to cheer Frank up. They sent him home in a couple of days and said they couldn't find anything wrong.

I was disgusted with Dr. Ford and tried to get a new doctor for Frank, but none of the doctors would take his case. I insisted that Ford do another C.T. Scan on Frank since he had been ailing so badly and yet they said nothing was wrong. When they did they said the cancer was in the stomach and then they started him on chemo therapy. Started Chemo Therapy 26 November 1984. Took last Chemo on 10 May 1985.

He had to go to Salt Lake twice a month for 5-1/2 months. Frank was so very ill. He couldn't keep anything down. He couldn't sit down to a meal without throwing up. It was heartbreaking to watch him be so ill and couldn't do anything to help him.

Some friends told me of some herbs they claimed would help him with his nausea. It was peach bark tea. We had to go to Ogden to get it, but he would take some before chemo and some after and it really worked. He was never nauseated again which was a great relief for him.

After he had taken his series of Chemo, Dr. Ford called him one day and told Frank he was in remission. He was so excited he wept. He had to get on the phone and call all his family. This was 12 June 1985.

I have come to the conclusion that when they tell you, "You are in remission," they are really saying, "We have given you all the treatment we can and if it works great, if not too bad."

Frank never did feel better. He was constantly having sweats, chills, fevers, always weak and tired.

I took the responsibility of trying to fix an apartment house for Glenda. Frank would come in and stay at the apartment with me. I took a mat and pillow and blanket. He would lay and rest and help me at times when he could.

Mother had been in an accident in March and had been in and out of hospitals. Inga Mae had taken her to her home and I had spent most of the year taking care of Frank and helping with caring for Mom.

In October Mom became very ill. We had her in the hospital and we all felt she was dying. Berdell's wife, Helen, said when she got up one morning she felt so blue and then she said she heard Dad's voice tell her, "Let her go, I need her." We had been asked by the Dr. to make a decision as to whether we should put Mom on a life support system and we had asked all the children what their decision was. We felt this was an answer to our decision.

She never did get better, but gradually became more ill until she died on the 7th of January 1986. When Inga called the morning of the 6th to tell me, I just left Frank and he offered to call some of the kids. He stayed home and I went in alone. After Mom died, I went out to start the car and it wouldn't go, so I went down to the girls apartment and stayed, but I never slept. I finally got up and wrote Mom's obituary.

In the morning, I met all the brothers and sisters at the mortuary and we took care of all the burial details.

When I had finished, I called Frank. He said he had been so ill he couldn't fix anything to eat and had fallen down twice. I hurried home and fixed him something to eat.

The next morning, I called Dr. Ford and took him in. He said he thought he had the flue and gave him some medication.

The day of Mom's viewing, Frank didn't feel like going. He did go to the funeral, but did not feel good. We brought him home and my neighbor, Moss Clegg, kept checking on him while I went to Oasis.

The day after Mom's funeral, Frank said he was going out to get the mail. He stood up to get his coat and fell straight back. I called Dr. Ford and he said, "Well, that's the way the flu is. If he isn't better in a couple of weeks bring him in and we'll run some test on him."

I felt panicked. I called Dr. Bott in Provo. He had him come in for some tests and they found he had cancer in the bone marrow.

My heart was heavy and I knew Frank's was though he didn't say anything. Frank lay on the examination table and our feelings of fear and despair were overpowering.

The doctor told us he could either make him comfortable or start him on another series of chemo.

They started the chemo the next day, but the pharmacy made a mistake in the prescription on Procarbozine and his Dr. confirmed it and Frank was given 14 capsules in 1 1/2 days. It caused his bone marrow to stop functioning. He became disoriented, confused, weak and couldn't breath, had sweats, chills, and fevers. He was deathly ill. They gave him eleven units of blood and sent him home to die.

I had him at home for two weeks and he could not take care of himself. He became totally bedfast. I never slept a full hour hardly just cat-napped. I was up continually with him.

Charalyne, her new baby, Colleen, and Courtney and Kasey came. Frank was so ill on his birthday he didn't know what was going on.

Dee Wayne and Jolyn offered to take him out to their place for which I was grateful as I needed help in diapering and turning him.

He lived for three weeks out there and died on the 28th of March 1986.

A few days before he became so ill, he awoke one morning and said, "I heard the most beautiful music all night."

While he was at Dee Wayne's, he was in a coma condition and he could not talk, but he could hear us.

One morning I awoke and he was laying in bed looking at me. He said, "I was wondering how long you would sleep."

I was so thrilled to see him awake and to hear his voice I jumped out of bed and said, "Why didn't you wake me if you needed something?" He just looked at me, closed his eyes and never spoke again that day.

About a week before he died, he woke up again and looked around. I asked him if he knew where he was and he said, "In some studio."

I said, "No, you are at Dee Wayne's home."

He said, "I've got to get out of here."

All the grandchildren came in and he recognized them and called them by name. He insisted on going to the bathroom. Doug and Dee Wayne helped him. I told him the kids were having "Grandparents day in school and wanted me to go."

He said, "Well, why didn't you go?"

I told him I was going. I did go and when I came back he was in his comatose state again. Then one morning as I was bathing him he looked up at me and told me he loved me. I told him I loved him and put my arms around him and kissed him. He suffered so very much.

Death is hard to describe, a silent invisible matter that stalks it's prey. While you frantically try each day to turn the doom of death away, but it just keeps coming, weakening and disarming a different part of the body until finally it conquers. The body that was once so beautiful and full of life and energy, gradually withers in helplessness and finally in a weak sigh, life slips way, leaving an empty shell of memories, heartaches, and sadness to those who have to say goodbye.

Frank died March 28, 1986 in Kearns, Utah, at the home of Dee Wayne Adams, his son.

ALICE ADAMS-1988

Christmas 1987 was a different exciting Christmas, no snow, so family, but such an exciting time, not too much time to be lonely or homesick.

About one week before Christmas, we knocked on a door to have it opened by a tear stained face. We were invited in and listened for nearly an hour to the plight of this dear sister. Her husband had left her with a family of six children. Besides having feelings of despair, heartache, rejection and loneliness, the children all faced an empty Christmas stocking.

It was the Mother's birthday the next day. Excitedly we hurried home and baked a birthday cake. We tucked some extra money into a card and tried to make her birthday a happy occasion. We also left a Book of Mormon with her and invited her to church.

Sunday, we were surprised to welcome her to church. She had spent her birthday money for dresses for her girls so they could attend. She agreed to taking the discussions and committed to baptism.

Ward members assisted in helping to make her Christmas a joyous one. Because of financial problems, it became necessary for her to move to Canada to be with family. Again, ward members assisted her in her move.

Because of word of wisdom problems, we were not able to baptize her, but referred her name to the missionaries in Canada. To have helped her in our small way really brought us joy and happiness.

A little widow invited us to her humble little trailer for a meal and we knew her act of kindness had required great sacrifice. We also noticed that she wore only a thin little sweater in the cold, but faithfully attended all meetings. So we found a warm coat on sale and pooled our Christmas money, family and friends had given us and bought her a coat. Sister Smith was faster on her feet than I, so she was nominated to dress in disguise to play Santa. We thrilled as we watched our little friend cuddled in the warmth of her coat on Sunday.

Another widow lady 71 years old still tried to run her farm, raising cattle, four dogs and I counted 13 cats in the house and several were still outside. All her concerns and money was spent taking care of her animals (which were her children). We taught her the discussions, but she decided she would not fit in because of her lifestyle, which was probably a truth. She came bare legged and wore a ragged jacket to the Christmas party so we gave her some nylons and a sweater for her Christmas. By doing for others, it helped to make our Christmas very special.

New Year's Eve, Sister Smith and I had made ourselves comfortable with nightgown and robe. I fixed a plate of goodies to nibble on. A knock came on our door and there were the elders, so we spent the evening playing the game

Mille Borne and eating the goodies.

Toledo and Winlock and surrounding areas were suffering from the closing down of the logging business. Many people had moved away which left the two wards understaffed.

The people were wonderful to us and would share anything they had with us and I made a lot of choice friends. Had nine baptisms there-some are progressing great and others need a lot of fellowshiping.

I was moved to Issaquah, a city east of Bellevue, on the 1st of June. We lived in a trailer court that had lots of interesting neighbors such as prostitutes, drug dealers, and a neighbor whose language and actions really kept us concerned. It made it hard for us to maintain a spiritual feeling.

In the two and a half months there we only had one baptism, an elderly gentleman whose memory was failing him. The elders had started to teach him, but had given up on him. We were asked to give him the discussions and told by our mission president to baptize him. As we taught him, we did so on a child's level, making visual aids, to better explain the principles of the gospel to him.

The night of his baptism arrived. He was to be interviewed by the zone leader. We were concerned for fear he could not remember what he had been taught.

After the interview the elder who had interviewed him came to us with tears in his eyes. He said, "I have interviewed a lot of people for baptism, but I have never felt the spirit so strong as I have this night."

After Mr. Forbes had been baptized, his son who had baptized him, took him in his arms, loved him and kissed him, which touched all our hearts. After his confirmation, Mr Forbes, stood up and said, "I want to thank all of you for coming tonight and sharing this wonderful experience with me. I have never had such a wonderful feeling in my life."

We all felt the Spirit so strong and knew Mr. Forbes had also felt it. It was very interesting that as we visited with him after baptism, he seemed to remember better and carry on a good conversation with us.

Issaquah was an area almost opposite from Toledo and Winlock. Such wealth, education, good paying jobs, but too busy to be concerned about helping to find new people to teach.

Inga Mae flew out to drive home with me. We went to Snoquamie to visit with Cameron's son, David and his new wife and family. We went on up to Canada and took a Ferry to Victoria and spent three wonderful days enjoying the beauty of that quaint city. We saw the Beachart Gardens which is fifty acres of beautiful flowers and shrubs.

We then took a ferry to Port Angeles and then drove on top of Hurricane Ridge and then drove over to Port Townsend to visit our cousin Florence Deck. We spent three days with her enjoying the beauty of the area and her hospitality.

On my way home, I stopped in Toledo and Winlock and Ryderwood visiting those we had baptized. I stayed with some friends who took us out to Mt. St. Helens, a volcano that erupted in 1980. There was hundreds of miles of total devastation. We were told by the guide that the eruption took place in minutes. It really makes one realize how insignificant man really is and of the power within the universe.

Since being home, I have been asked to serve as Education counselor in Relief society. Also, I help a couple of hours at the BYU library on Sunday to teach the Primary classes how to use the library.

I am managing the Kenkraft Candy store in Alpine which is a lot of fun.

I came home to find all my grandchildren have grown so much. I haven't had a chance to visit Charalyne since I came home.

Dee Wayne and Jolyn went direct in Amway. They were flown to Ada, Michigan and given a tour of the Amway company by the President. Dee Wayne has built in his garage and made a lovely product room for his business.

Douglas and Pam have bought a new home in West Jordan just northwest of the Temple.

Mashell is working at the church vault and also helping Diana and Ken with their little family.

Darla is working at Soft Copy in Orem, and she has a new job working at the court house in Provo.

May you all have a wonderful prosperous New Year.

TEARS ARE THE SAFETY VALVES OF THE HEART WHEN TOO MUCH PRESSURE IS LAID ON IT.

ROGER & LYNNE' SHURTZ

It's hard to believe that it is the end of the year again and time to type this summary. The years seem to be slipping by a little faster than they used to. We are doing fine and enjoying life in Enoch. We have lived here for six and a half years now and this is home.

This year has been a challenging one for Roger. His responsibilities with Security Title have changed. He now handles the closings and escrows for people who are buying or selling property. He has had to learn a lot of new things this year, but he has enjoyed the challenge and the change. He is still involved with the Cedar City Lions Club and is serving as second vice-president, which gives him some new experiences with them. Although the Bishopric changed in our ward, Roger was kept as the Executive Secretary and so he is now working with the new Bishopric.

Lynne' has also experienced a few changes this year. She was released from the Relief Society presidency in January and was called to serve as a Spiritual Living teacher instead. That has been a real challenge for her, but has provided her with opportunities to make more time for Gospel study. She has also been called to work in the nursery when she is not taking care of her Relief Society responsibilities and enjoys the time she gets to spend with the little ones in there. She also spends time at Enoch Elementary serving as a reading mother and playing the piano for singing time.

This has been another busy year for Chad. He is still working at McDonalds and really enjoys it. He is now qualified to work in all areas in the store and was honored as their Employee of the Month in September. He is 16 now and a Sophomore at Cedar High this year, carrying a full schedule. He is taking Seminary at 7 a.m. in order to schedule in everything else. He had Driver's Ed after school for the first term, so his days were pretty long. Things have eased up now that Driver's Ed is over. He received his driver's license this month and was quite excited about that. He still plays trombone, this year with the symphonic band. He was able to attend the Beaver High Adventure Camp for a week and really enjoyed that. He took Hunter Safety this year, so he has been able to go hunting with his dad and grandfather. He received his Patriarchal Blessing on May 1st and was ordained a Priest by his dad on October 16 of this year.

Lynnette turned 14 this year and is in the 8th grade at Cedar Middle School. She plays her violin with the orchestra and is doing well at school. She participates in the sports programs with the Young Women and is a Mia Maid this year. Girls Camp was held at the Beaver High Adventure Camp this year and turned into quite an experience for the girls, thanks to a bad thunderstorm and flashfloods. Several of the girls in the Stake suffered from hypothermia, but the Lord was watching over them and all ended well.

Lynnette babysits regularly for a neighbor in order to earn spending money and is looking forward to getting a real job.

This has been a year of changes for Jennifer, too. She is a 6th grader at Cedar Middle School. It has been quite a change from elementary school, but she is enjoying it. She is taking band and learning to play the flute, which is something she has looked forward to for several years. She has made a lot of progress with it and we enjoy hearing her play. Because she turned 12 this year she was able to graduate from Primary and move into the Young Women's program as a Beehive. She and Lynnette have had a lot of fun doing more things together and have become closer. Jennifer does a lot of babysitting now. She and Lynnette babysit together quite a bit for one of our neighbors who works.

Carolyn is 10 now and a 4th grader at Enoch Elementary. Her teacher is Mr. Phil Adams this year. He is from Delta and has taught all of our kids (so far) in the 4th grade. They all think he's great. She is participating in a class three times a week in which the kids are given in-depth learning opportunities in specific areas. She participated in a poetry class and is now participating in a "futuring" class. It involves more outside work and is a challenge, at times, for her. She is becoming more and more dependable, as we need her to babysit for us while the other kids participate in activities away from home.

Monica is 7 this year and a 2nd grader at Enoch Elementary. All of our kids have been good students, and Monica is following their example. She is really turning into a good reader and reads at least 150 pages a week. Her class is participating in a program in which they read a certain number of pages a month and then receive a free personal pan pizza from Pizza Hut. She is trying hard to help around the house and do the things she knows that she should.

Nicole is 2 and will be 3 in just a short time. She has made a lot of strides this year. If you sit down and take the time to listen to her, you will find that she has a lot of interesting and serious things to say. Nicole and Lynne spend a lot of time together while the kids are in school, and Nicole keeps life interesting. She loves it when Chad or the girls will take the time to play with her.

Around the first of July our family made a trip to Idaho to see Lynne's family. We spent 4 or 5 days with them and then headed home. Her family followed us down in time for her brother Brett's wedding at the St. George Temple. The reception was held in Pecoche, Nevada. We had an enjoyable visit with all of them.

We spent a few days before the 24th of July with Roger's family at Grassy Lake. This has become an annual event with the family. Everyone has a good time. We've found it a fun place to camp, and everyone has a good time visiting, fishing, or boating. Everyone has something they can do and someone to do it with.

Relationship of Submitter to Husband _____ Wife _____

Hi everyone,

We have had a good year with our business, which we appreciate very much. We did so well Bob won a trip for two through Ford New Holland to Switzerland. We left Utah Sept. 26 and flew to New York then on to Paris, France where we changed planes and landed in Geneva, Switzerland Sept. 27. It was breathtaking in Switzerland. Everything was so clean and neat it was very impressive. The Countryside was very green with no weeds, it looked like all the fields and hillsides had been mowed.

After we checked into our rooms we rested and walked around to check out our new location. Every where we looked there were high rise buildings. The funny thing about them, there were trees growing on the tops of them. That evening we were treated to a traditional program of dancing and singing. We were served their native foods which I had a hard time eating, Bob enjoyed the food.

The following day we toured the city of Geneva. We saw many of their old buildings, parks and historical sites. Geneva is a very old city with many of the streets made with cobble stone. Most of the streets are so narrow that the cars park on the sidewalks. That evening we boarded a huge paddle wheel boat and went into Yvoire, France. This was a 14th century medieval village with narrow cobbled streets just wide enough for one small car. In Yvoire we ate and walked through their village where entertainments were along many of the streets.

Sept. 29 we traveled on their electric trains to Interlaken. We visited a wood carving shop where they are world famous for their wood carvings. Then we rode a bus to Brienz where we took a walk around museum of old barns and homes. Their homes and barns were attached. It was very interesting.

Sept 30, we were given a car with one other couple. They gave us a map and directions to follow and we were on our way. We were to check in about five times through the morning before we reached the barbecue for lunch. We missed the first two but somehow got back on the trail again. It rained on us the whole day but it was very beautiful. That evening we were taken on a drive around where we chose a restaurant to eat at. We chose a little french restaurant and the food was very tasty.

This was our last day of touring and we were taken to the medieval village of Gruyeres. The countryside was beautiful, there were grape vineyards all over the mountains and hills. When we arrived in Gruyeres we were able to look around. This was one of my favorite places because we were able to tour the castle. Inside the castle the bottom floors were cobblestone. As you climbed higher up the room became very beautiful. It was fun to be in an old castle. Gruyeres legend begins as early as 923. There were many small shops with there beautiful window boxes filled with bright red flowers. It was an enchanting little village. All the homes in switzerland our kept very clean around their yards, the homes all have the window boxes with bright colored flowers filling them.

That evening we were treated to a five course meal and an evening of Dancing. Are trip to Switzerland was really exciting and fun. On Oct. 2 we checked out and flew home with a few delays and a layover in New York complaiments of TWA we arrived in Delta late afternoon on Oct. 3. There is a seven hour time difference so it took me a few days to get my self together again.

Von graduated from Delta High in May. He is working for his Dad at Allreds Equipment. Neil turned Eight on July 28, he was baptized by his dad on Aug.6 1988 and confirmed by his grandpa Orin F. Allred Aug. 7. We are very proud of Neil for his decision. Neil is in the third grade this year and also a cub scout. Katie will be ten Dec.12. She plays the piano and is in the fourth grade.

We are still busy with church work, Bob is still Bishop and I am teaching the Mia Maids. We were able to get a few family camping trips in this summer. Also our trip to lagoon. The years seem to go by to fast any more.

We hopeyou have had a good year and wish each one of you a happy holiday and a great New Year.

Love the Allreds,

Bob, Bev, Von, Katie and Neil

FLOYD AND BARBARA HASTINGS

1988 has been an eventful year for the Floyd Hastings family.

January 6 Gregg entered the mission home. Nearly three weeks later he took his first airplane trip and headed for San Diego. He helped open up Point Loma, which had been closed for sometime. He lived among the wealthy and knows now how the other half lives. He learned some patience, humility, hard work, the joy of baptising, and the general basics of being a great missionary. After seven months he was transferred to the desert of Lake Havasu. At first it was a bit warm but it began to cool off soon. He's had some great experiences and has grown into a wonderful young man, firm in the faith.

Now our Kathy is a graduate of Granger High School and is attending Salt Lake Community College studying to be a legal secretary. She is becoming very familiar with the computer and is learning much. She has been doing lots more dating and is learning to be more choosy about who she goes out with. She's had some interesting experiences juggling dates and fellows who just drop by. She's enjoying herself and loves the Young Adult and Institute dances.

Kathy worked for Devlin's Child Development for eight months and was hired in September to work at a Day Care (Small World) just across the street. The stress level there is much lower and she just walks to work so that frees up one of our vehicles.

Kathy was involved in an accident April 1 and we were grateful she was driving the truck and was not hurt. We do learn much from our experiences.

Brian just got his driver's license! Yeah, mom doesn't have to take him to work any more. Brian got a sweeper job at Rolling Meadows Elementary where Gregg worked for years. Brian is kept quite busy between work and school. Brian is growing closer to his younger brothers and is still lots of fun to be around.

Angie is now the big ninth grader. She is 14 and can now go to the Stake dances. She's also taking a dance class at school and you can often find her practicing her dances as she works in the kitchen. Angie still loves all sports and participates in them all she can. She never lacks for something fun to do as she is always cooking up an activity with a friend.

Jonny was a little nervous about going to Junior High but has adjusted very well. He will be a Star Scout this month and really enjoys his scout activities and camps. Jonny is very conscientious and is a wonderful son, brother and friend.

Daniel and Mom managed to spend another week in Logan for Suzuki Institute. It was great and we're looking hopefully to doing it again next summer. Daniel participated in several recitals and perfected a new movement while we were there. One of Daniel's teachers was amazed at his ability to play. She said she saw the broadcast of "Horowitz from Moscow" when Horowitz played the same piece Daniel played for her. She said Horowitz is world famous for his fine rapid playing and she didn't know if he could play it as fast as Daniel. Daniel is still progressing and making the family proud. This makes five years Dan has been playing the piano for us. He is in the fourth/fifth split in school and competes well with the fifth graders.

Jared is now five. He goes to a neighborhood preschool two mornings a week and is making even more friends. He has been reading the scriptures with us and doing a beautiful job for months. There are many blessings that come from doing the simple things of the gospel.

Floyd is still serving on the High Council and had his assignments changed a few months ago. He is over one of the Ward's "Continuing to Minister" efforts. He has been blessed to be a part of "miracles" in our stake as inactives have a change of heart and again enjoy the goodness of the Gospel of Jesus Christ. He is currently working with four such families.

Floyd was recently told he would be getting a nice raise - an "impossibility" for the small office and the blessing of living in Salt Lake City. We have not missed the nearly $300 we send to Gregg each month as well. The Lord is really pouring out his blessings on us. We are happy in our home and though we have challenges we know we are being blessed beyond measure.

I have been teaching the Laurels since February. Though I never aspired to work with the Young Women I have found out why everyone loves it so much. It has been so neat to grow close to the girls and to see what potentials they have and to be a part of shaping their lives and standards.

The Church is still true and we send our love to you all.

P.s. Sorry this is so slow. Hope we're not too late! Floyd was sealed to his parents July 10, 1954.

Thanks for keeping our family close, Glenda. Love always

Hastings

FAMILY HISTORY OF EUGENE AND JUNE LOSEE 1988
written January 1989

We started the New Year with Roger and Lynne and family visiting us and attending dinner at Bev and Bob's. Then on January 3rd, we attended a mission farewell for our oldest grandchild and grandson, Gregg Hastings, in West Valley City with a dinner afterward at Hastings. All of our family were in attendance. We saw him off on January 27th for his mission in San Diego and he is presently serving in Havesu City, Arizona and loving it. He says he recently baptized Charlie Brown. That sounds a little above and beyond his duty. Surely baptizing every creature doesn't include cartoon characters.

Our Lamanite daughter, Kathy, and her husband, Mike Colebrook, got them a baby daughter, born at Mt. Pleasant, Utah on 20 December 1987. She weighed 7 lbs. and 4 oz. and was 21 inches long and was named "Ambirlyn Glehesbah".

This year we have been blessed with four more grandchildren. Sheila and Warren Allen had another girl, "Amanda Dawn" born on January 31, 1988, at Price, Utah, on Nicole Shurtz's second birthday. Amanda was blessed and given her name on March 6th at Orangeville, Utah, by her father, Warren. She weighed 9 lbs 6-1/2 oz. and was 21 inches long.

Another grandson was born at the Holy Cross West Jordan Hospital to Steven and Melody on June 29, 1988, weighing 6-1/2 lbs. and was 19 inches long. Melody had phlebitis before and after his birth. Another red head as was his brother, Lane. He was blessed at Sutherland, Utah, on September 4, 1988, by his father, Steven. He was given the name of David Eugene after his grandfather, great-grandfather, and also Steve's brother who died ten years ago.

The day after Cindy and Justin's 2nd wedding anniversary, August 23, 1988, another granddaughter, "Stephanie Lee", arrived at Provo Utah Valley Regional Medical Center to Cindy and Justin, their first. She weighed 6lbs. and was 18 inches long. She was given her blessing and name at Provo, Utah on 28 August 1988 by her father Justin.

I had the privilege of staying with Cindy and Stephanie in Provo for a few days. Justin had graduated on August 12, from Brigham Young University with honors, and was working for his dad in Duchesne to earn extra money to move back east. Cindy wanted to make Stephanie's Christening dress, so although the baby was named five days after being born, Cindy met the deadline in spite of her not feeling the greatest. Stephanie had arrived about two weeks earlier than expected, so Justin was able to name her and all the family attend before they packed the U-Haul and Justin and his brother Jeff headed for Rochester, New York.

Cindy spent some time with us and worked about a week before she joined Justin in New York, where he is attending college, majoring in Physics. Cindy is working at the college for half a day. They surprised us Christmas night as they walked into the dining room where we were beginning to eat our turkey dinner. A pleasant surprise and Stephanie had grown so much in the two months they were gone.

On September 10, 1988, Cindy's birthday, Marsha and Vance Lovell became parents to Kristy Lynn. She was dark-haired, 7 1/2 lbs. and 20 inches long and was born at Provo Utah Valley Regional Medical Center. She was blessed and given her name at Delta, Utah, by her father, Vance, on October 2, 1988. I enjoyed staying at Marsha's and helping out for a few days and getting better acquainted with Karalee, and enjoying their new home.

All 27 of our grandchildren are beautiful, healthy children for which we are so grateful and feel so blessed. We dearly love them all and wish for their happiness throughout life.

The last of January, Melody and Steve left Carmen and Melynda and Lane here and drove to California to attend Melody's Grandpa Hazard's funeral. The kids were cute and we enjoyed them.

Gene and I both spent some time in Orangeville, with Sheila and Warren when Amanda was born which we enjoyed. We took Ashley and Christopher home for a few days. When we took them back home, they would have been happy to return with us again, but their Mom and Dad missed them so we left them.

During our spare time in the colder weather we reorganized our food storage room installed new crystal chandeliers in the living room, hooked up the new dishwasher given me at Christmas by Gene and Steve and Melody. We also watched some movies on our VCR. We attended the Intermountain Power Plant recreation center with Cecil and Ava Losee where we played shuffleboard, pool (a first for me), table tennis, did a bit of weight lifting and exercising in the exercise room. We even got all steamed up once in the jacuzzi there. It was almost too hot for me to enjoy. You can't stay in very long at a time. Another night for home evening and at grandson Neil's prodding, Bob and Bev's and Vance and Marsha's family joined us at I.P.P.

Gene planned a successful High Priest party (at my suggestion) for our High Priest Group Leader and his wife who were leaving on s mission. It was very successful and enjoyable with 56 High Priests, their wives and widows attending. Gene is still a counselor to the new High Priest Group Leader, a home teacher, and Young Men's secretary. I am a visiting teacher and compassionate service leader in our ward.

Every week for a few months, I helped at the Delta Hospital to assist a lady from our ward who was trying to recover from a stroke, and relearning words. Good health is such a blessing and we think if we have it, it will continue forever, but there may and will come a day, so we should be more thankful for all the blessings we have each day.

In the Doctrine and Covenants 78:19, it says, "And he who receiveth all things with thankfulness shall be made glorious; and the things of this earth shall be added unto him, even an hundred fold, yea more."

Gene's brother, Roy, and wife, Reva, had to stay up north for weeks for radiation treatments and Gene took care of their chores. Roy seems to be doing fine now for which we are thankful.

February 20, 1988, found Cindy, Marsha, Gene and I at the Manti Temple where we met Kathy and Mike Colebrook and witnessed their marriage and the sealing of Ambirlyn to her parents. What a cutie with her dark hair, blue eyes and two teeth. She was two months old. After going through a temple session, we went to Ephraim and had dinner with Mike and Kathy. A special day we were glad to share with our Lamanite daughter.

Gene and I have attended the temple several times doing endowments and initiatory work for the dead. I think of Mom often and marvel at the work Mom did at the temple. 94,388 ordinances. What an achievement! When I think of her not even being able to drive a car, I know the Lord provides a way for those who are willing to do his work.

Veola and Inga Mae spent a few days with us which was very enjoyable. Devon came out one night and we cooked up a yummy chicken and vegetable dinner in the wok. Mae and Veola had a few parties to introduce "Eagle Shield" insulation. Something new.

In February, we again attended a dinner and the Sweetheart Ball. We received one of the prizes for looking like we were enjoying ourselves.

We decided to make a few changes in our bedrooms upstairs. We put mirrors on Cindy's cupboard doors and carpeted and papered and made a study of it with a couch that will make into a spare bedroom,

We then papered the walls in Sheila's and Marsha's bedroom and made it into a dining room. We bought a beautiful new table and 8 chairs that opens to seat 14 of us. Sure helps things go more smoothly when there's a large crowd for meals.

We got a new kitchen carpet this past Christmas of 1988 and I surprised Gene with a new wooden kitchen table and chairs Christmas night. Vance and Marsha brought it out and the guys helped set it up. A big improvement. it looks well with the carpet.

Devon made a change in his life in April. He had been living in the Delta Manor apartments in Delta for awhile and working at the Delta Care Center until he injured his back lifting someone. he visited us occasionally and we helped him celebrate his birthday with pizza, cake and ice cream and playing games. The last of April 1988 he left for Richard and Glenda's country where he is employed as a security guard at a rest home in West Hartford, Connecticut. Berdell's and our family had a barbecue at Marsha and Vance's before his departure. His son, Kevin was married November 4, 1988 in the Salt Lake Temple and we attended his reception in Payson along with other family members.

The last of February we made a big change in the outside of our home by having brown and cream colored siding put on from Rocky Mountain Coatings. That called for new double pane windows which we needed badly so for a month or more we were dusty and in bad shape, but progress took place gradually and the transformation was nice. Gene kept pretty busy removing the old siding, and with the help of another carpenter replaced the windows. Of course that called for new curtains and venetian blinds and some touch up painting. We have and will enjoy the change for years to come. I really love my beautiful home Gene has fixed for us to enjoy. Of course, I'm close by prodding or pounding.

From this project, the spring work on the farm began and no let up in that department until late fall, because of the excellent weather this year. Grain and hays are our crops grown. Lots of hay!

We enjoyed a garden again and its produce is beneficial to our taste buds and welfare. Of course, there's always plenty of weeds even if you destroy every one on your property one year. They never cease to amaze me. Just glad I'm able to assist in getting rid of them. A few years hence might not be so easy. You know old age, I even now fell it approaching.

In April, Glenda and Richard visited Utah so we all enjoyed another party at Alden's and Mae's. We all took turns having birthday parties at different places. good way to see each other more often.

Our kids enjoyed Easter at Desert Mountain with us.

In May, Nancy and Melvin visited briefly on their way to his class reunion where he sang a song. Mel later came and stayed overnight while testing weather instruments on his job.

We're still maintaining the old homestead in Sugarville. Have tried to sell it but to no avail. There are a lot of vacant homes in our area now.

Von Allred and Kathy Hastings (our grandchildren) both graduated from high school this year and we attended their graduations and activities.

Sheila was in charge of the Memmott reunion this year. It rained and rained so the last minute we were able to get the Palomar where we stayed nice and dry. Had a enjoyable time eating, playing volleyball and of course watching the young ones scramble for candy after breaking the pinata. The treasure hunt outside was put on the back burner. Our family were all in attendance because of the involvement and support given to Sheila. Others attending were quite sparse, but the quality was good. It had quit raining as we ended the reunion and was beautiful outside. Repentance is in order and we'll hope for a better attendance next year.

We were able to attend the Jensen reunion this year. It is only held every two years and I was informed I was in charge then with Maureen being the secretary. Ya'll come to that one too, okay?

With Father's and Mother's Day and our birthdays and anniversary in the summer, we had lots of chances for parties and getting together with our family. They gave us a nice lawn swing which we enjoy also.

We enjoyed getting acquainted with Ken and Diana's three girls, Julie, Lisa, and Stacy while Diana was hospitalized and before her three girls and one boy were born. Bev and Marsha and I took all our kids swimming at the pool and the reservoir while they were here for a week in July.

Gene and I spent many hours baling with the two bales going. I usually continue if one breaks down and the man with the brains does the hard work. Beautiful and peaceful watching the sun come up and the mosquitoes are scarce then. That's why I don't learn to use the windrower, the mosquitoes are in full force then. I have irrigated while Gene was at Dugway, but it's not one of my favorite jobs either, especially at night. Speaking of windrowers, Gene got a bargain (hopefully if it works good) from the Indians at Ibapah. It has a cover over it which I'm sure he'll enjoy.

We also bought us a 5th wheel trailer this past summer and at our family reunion at Grassy Lake at Orangeville, it was a novelty for all the kids and grandkids. We stayed a day or two longer and camped with Sheila, Warren and kids going along Skyline Drive above Manti.

Warren left for an interview at Scoffield. He is not working for Zion's Bank in Castle Dale anymore, but is an accountant for a mining company which he likes better especially the money.

Some of the things we enjoyed during the summer were the Ute Stampete, The Centennial Celebration at the Manti Temple in May and the Mormon Miracle Pageant with Bev and Bob. We tried our new camper up Manti Canyon and got locked in the first night we had stayed in it. Our neighbors from California we had met the night before came to our rescue. We also went to an excellent performance of Fiddler On The Roof in Provo area with Cindy and Suzette.

We witnessed our grandson, Neil, being baptized on August 6, 1988 and refreshments at his place afterward.

August 14 was Gene's birthday and we were fixing dinner when the lamps began swinging and I felt dizzy. An earthquake near Sheila's area in Orangeville was 5.6 on the Richter scale. She called all excited later as rocks were tumbling down mountains after they had gone outside, and their hall plaster had cracked. That's close enough for me.

We attended the Losee reunion on September 3 in Delta for Gene's brothers and sister. Lots of singing, guitar and accordion playing whenever they get together. A musical family. We are in charge of next year's reunion with Barb and Bev. All our family were in attendance again, because of Steve's baby's naming the next day.

We got to vote for President of the United States and of course our choice was the winner.

On September 13, we witnessed the wedding of Alicia Memmott and Jim Richardson in the Salt Lake Temple, luncheon at Holiday Inn and the reception in Bountiful. A lovely day for a cut couple. Success to them.

On October 15, 1988, Alice, Mae and I went to a luncheon party for Tammy Hansen before her mission to Denmark. As we drove up to the house where the party was being held, Alice said, "This is the home of our cousin Stanley Christensen."

When we got inside, we found this to be true. Tammy's second cousin was giving her the party and they were in the same ward and had become friends, but didn't know they were related. Warren's mom told me that a coincidence is a blessing from the Lord given analogously. I think of that quite often and believe it is so true. Tammy's farewell meeting October 30, was great and the luncheon also. We are proud of her and hope she has great success in Denmark, the land of our ancestors, the Jensens.

Kent Memmott is in Rochester, New York area by Justin and Cindy and they have seen each other. He is the Assistant to the President and I think will return home in February or soon after.

On October 20th, we attended my cousin, Lloyd Christiansen's funeral at Holden, Utah. He was the watermaster there and was hit in the head with a backhoe and was alive about two weeks with many complications. He has a nice family. The funeral was comforting and sad.

We enjoyed Alice's mission report very much. She was one of the best, I'm sure. She excels in many things. She wanted us sisters to all get together for her birthday, so on September 24, and 25 we did just that. A drive up American Fork Canyon, then to Salt Lake where we all four stayed overnight at Howard Johnson's Hotel across from Temple Square. In the evening, we attended the Women's Conference at the Tabernacle, afterwards indulging ourselves to food at the cafe. After Veola had given all facials, we acted like teenagers, giggling and talking and getting some sleep. The next morning was Sunday and we made the effort to go to the Tabernacle Choir broadcast and a guided tour of Temple Square. It was beautiful. We then checked out of our hotel and went to a brunch at Mulboons across from Trolley Square, a new experience for me, so many varieties of everything.

We then drove with Mae as our chauffeur up to Park City. What a drastic change since I had been there last about forty years ago. It's built up a lot in that area. The trees were turning colors in American Fork Canyon and Park City. I stayed overnight at Inga Mae's then drove home the next day. It was a super idea and we enjoyed being together.

For Veola's birthday, we had a pot luck supper together at Veola's then watched videos and talked until late. Didn't stay overnight because of other commitment, but we had fun.

Glenda arrived in Utah shortly after her birthday along with Pam to check out college at BYU for Pam and other business with Real Estate. That called for another get-together at Mae's for supper, visiting, video viewing, today's entertainment and chatting too late for much rest. Another good memory.

Now Inga Mae's birthday is approaching and she has plans for a housecleaning party. Whoever heard of such a thing. Sounds old fashioned to me. He house is so clean now, so I'm not too worried. We'll have a good time whatever we do.

This fall, Gene decided to build a shop out north of our house a ways. A few days before Thanksgiving we finally got the cement poured. A perfect place for an outdoor dance hall. We've been too busy since and it turned too cold to do much else towards it yet. The size is 28 feet by 36 feet, a nice place to work on machinery during the winter. Now Gene will never get any rest.

All our family came home for Thanksgiving except Roger and Lynne's and Justin and Cindy's. The day before Thanksgiving, Melynda came down with chicken pox. Everyone who hadn't had them gambled and lost. All the grandkids kept popping out with chicken pox for weeks after (even Von at age 19). By Christmas, Kristy Lynn was the last one to get them, and she exposed Stephanie when they arrived here for Christmas from New York. Perhaps the easter parts of this country will be having them also. We like sharing. a bit like gossip, they spread real fast and there's no recalling the things we may have started.

Gene and I always enjoy attending the "Messiah" before Christmas whenever we can. We especially enjoyed this year's performance because the Eskdale orchestra from out west joined with them for the first time. Joe Moody and his wife, Glenna, led and played and it was really beautiful and outstanding. Glad we went.

The last day of 1988, we took Cindy and Stephanie to Provo after visiting about week with us. They then went to Dushesne to be with Justin's folks for a week before returning to New York. We spent New Year's Ever with Floyd, Barbara and jare at Steve and Melody' and kids. played games, had pizza, and the works until the New Year arrived. The next day, we all attended church at Bountiful where Melanie and Bill had their new daughter, Jennifer Rosemary, blessed and given her name. Enjoyed lunch and visiting at their home.

If we didn't travel so much we would be rich, but what's more important than families and getting involved with them.

Last Sunday, Gene and I were asked to be extractors for the New Home Extraction Program. Names of those whose ordinances have already been performed are to be recorded into computers. The church thinks this will take about six years to complete, with each of us doing at least two hours per week. Glad to be part of it. I think we'll enjoy it.

This year, I've also finished reading the Book of Mormon for the second time. The first time was over a period of five years for assignments when I was Primary President in the Old Sugarville Ward. All of you who read this please don't follow my example. Read it NOW as President Benson's been telling us to do.

In reading the Book of Mormon it made me appreciate the peaceful life we now have and the blessings we enjoy.

I have a strong testimony that this is the only true church on earth today and I'm so thankful to be member of "The Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints". There are such a few on this earth who have that privilege. Living it's teaching is the only way to complete happiness.

What a good year it's been for the most part for our families, and we're grateful for all the blessings we have and for a super family to belong to.

It's been said if there aren't any waves we aren't going anywhere.

Have one of the best years possible this coming year, and don't let your New Year's resolutions go in one year and out the other

Thanks for being special. We love you all

Gene and June

AUTOBIOGRAPHY OF DAVID EUGENE LOSEE
written by David

I was born into a choice family 22 years ago on March 21, 1954, the fourth child but first in what we called our second family, due to five years between me and my older sister.

Father and Mother had both been married once before, but due to death and disease of their previous spouses, they were married to form a new family. It often made me reflect on where I would be on this earth or in time if they hadn't been brought together. Our entire family consists of eight children, a good strong Latter-Day Saint family of three boys and five girls.

Mother related to me not too long before I was to be born, she and Dad hiked up to Sugarloaf mountain near Fillmore. I guess that would be considered my first mountain climb, but for some reason I can't remember it.

The night before my birth, the power went off. Since Mom knew it was time, she gave my older brothers and sisters a bath by candlelight and took them over to Grandpa Memmott to await the arrival of a new brother. I was born about fifty miles from home in Fillmore, Utah, due to the lack of good hospital facilities in Delta. Since hospital charges start after midnight, to keep from having to pay a whole days charges for a room, they drove around the town until it was time. I came into the world about 1:00 A.M. so they wouldn't have to pay an extra days hospital bed rent.

The first recollections I have of my infancy go back to when I was one or two. We lived in a basement house with a leaky roof which caused the wallpaper to warp and bulge in the corner where my crib was whenever it rained. For some reason, it used to scare me whenever I looked up at that corner. This characteristic of fear was true of my personality for the next few years as I'll relate later.

Things always look so big when you're young and small. Of course older brothers and sisters always want to show you a good time and help you get adjusted to life's experiences. One that really impressed me occurred right after a big snow storm. The wind had drifted snow against fence lines and in particular in ditches. The ride was really fun until we went through the ditch and the snow collapsed sled, baby and all into a mass of white stuff.

My first accident was again out of fear. My aunt and uncle, Cecil and Barbara Shurtz, came to visit a minute with Mom while the family was away. It was a cold day, but they didn't want to come into the house, so Mom got in the car to talk. When I saw that I got scared and didn't want to be a lone, so I commenced pounding on the window to get Mom's attention. First thing I knew, my hand went through the glass which got them all in the house fast. Blood was gushing everywhere and I remember my uncle holding it under cold water to wash the blood away. I carry two large scars on my hand to this day.

Even in childhood, I was quite and emotional person. Mom related to me when I was at Relief Society with her, I would sit on the front steps and howl whenever they Relief Society ladies sang. When she asked me what was wrong, I said, "The songs are too sad."

As all kids, I would run to Mom and Dad's bed whenever I had a bad dream. One of the typical dreams I still remember was when a giant pussy cat was chasing me around. Another time I was trapped in the pen with a bull. I had that dream twice.

Kindergarten was again a new challenge for me to face. I had never been away from home before and was scared to death. I got to ride part way with my older brother and sisters, but then had to change busses. I wasn't about to be left alone, so I took it out on the bus driver, kicking him and throwing a tantrum trying to get off that bus. My cousin, Annette, had to be my comforter all the way to school. After the first wee or so, I got brave and gave into my new way of life.

Fear still influenced me bad in first and second grade. I used to be so afraid the teacher Mrs. Judd would keep me in after school cause I didn't do my work right, then I would miss the bus. At recess I would sit by the fence and sing primary songs thinking God would help me not have to stay after.

In these years, I had a good friend by the name of John Owens. He was part Indian so one day we decided to prick our fingers and become blood brothers. It was strange, but we used to give each other good morning kisses as a joke. As I grew braver and more confident, I started swearing to act tough. I remembered John and I were on the jungle gym once and he asked, "Do you swear?"

I said, "Blankety-blank, yes I do." It was something I had picked up at school, as I seldom if ever heard my parents cuss or swear. I stopped though, almost as suddenly as I began. Just before I was to be baptized. I was walking in from recess and it struck me I should swear no more. I haven't had any problem since that time.

My father is a very easy going type of person and I never remembered a spanking. However, we all remember in our family the butter-knife on the top of the head if we acted up at the table.

My older brother Roger, taught me how to ride my bike. We would ride on the dirt road which led to the church so as to have a minimum of scrapes. Even then, it took much trial and error to get the job done.

I was raised in Sugarville, a very small farming community. there weren't many kids my age, but most of my Sundays were spent playing at my cousin Lynnette's and Jim Jenson's, a friend a year older than me. It was from him, I first learned about the facts of life. My first reaction was I wold never get married because I thought for some reason only wicked people did such things. But the more I learned about it, gradually my attitude changed.

We had a happy life at home, except when my older sister Beverly and I would go the rounds. She had the longest fingernails in the world it seemed to me especially when they gouged into my flesh.

There was an old familiar ring my older sister Barbara sang to have the dishes wiped, almost song-like. I still remember, "Come and wipe the dishes Beverly."

Some of the most fun experiences I remember was our family taking a week's camping vacation with other Uncles and Aunts and cousins every summer up in the mountains. We would hike up and roll boulders down to see how many trees we could wipe out. On one such vacation to Yellowstone Park when I was eight, I recall Dad wanted to sleep out on the ground, but Mom didn't. Dad changed his mind fast when a big black bear came up behind him and went through our camp.

I've always been a neat tidy sort of person and on this occasion was no different. I was straightening up the grub box in the back of the station wagon where my younger brother Steve was sleeping. He woke up fast, however, when I spilled pancake batter all over him, by accident of course. I've always judged myself as between average and a little above in looks, actions, and brainwise. All through school, I have cared what I thought of myself, and what others thought of me.

I picked up many characteristics from both my mother and my father. I respect each one of them. Dad is, as I mentioned, an easy going person, but a very hard worker which I picked somewhat up from him. Growing up on the farm caused us to work with our hands which I would still rather do than office or white collar type work indoors, though at times I wonder.

Mother is an eager beaver and somewhat more domineering which she has had to be since Dad is gone to work three days of the week day and night for the past ten years. Also she has always been sensitive to others feelings, and always made sure we got to our church meetings. Once I was at the church and looked at the attendance records and the only ones with 100% attendance were my three little sisters. All of these attitudes I have picked up to some degree from them.

My first days came when I was in ninth grade. It was harvest ball time. My friends all said they were going to the dance and challenged me to get a date. So with all the courage I could muster up, I accepted the challenge only to find I was the only one my age going. Now a problem arose. I didn't have a car nor a driver's license, so good old Mom and Dad were my chaperoned. We got to the dance at nine and none of the high school students showed up till ten. After that, the girl I took and I never spoke to one another for over a year, and it took me two years to muster up enough courage to go out on another date. I've thus far never had a super close relationship with one special girl. I never have been one to get super serious. My attitude is just to have a good time even at present.

In the years I have learned to be quite independent of other people, but have tried to choose my friends carefully though I try to be friendly to everyone. I probably picked up my interest in music and cooking from my mother. I took accordion lessons for four years, but gave it up (which I regret now) because of all the programs I had to play on, which really made me nervous. I've enjoyed cooking since I was young though things I make don't always turn out right. Once I made some red waffles with green syrup to add to the Christmas spirit, only the syrup was watery due to the fact instead of two of sugar and one of water I put one of sugar and two of water. One of many disasters.

I had some interest in athletics but was never really good in them, so didn't participate much in high school sports. My attitude since then has changed greatly however and I took up the sports. I have learned to love skiing, dance, gymnastics, tennis and in particular swimming. I think my attitude changed due to my health. About four years ago, I contracted a disease called Tullaremia or alias (rabbit fever) which about put me under. I was down off and on for nine months before I started feeling well only to be struck down with a tackacardia (heart) which really scared me at the time. I was out feeding the cows one morning after milking when my heart started racing at 160 beats per minute and wouldn't slow down which put me in the hospital for a day and unable to work for three more months.

One of the greatest influences of my maturity occurred when I was in the mission field with the rigorous activities we had to do each day. Many times it took great courage for me to accomplish. There are many things I don't understand yet especially in the line of marriage, exactly how to support a family. It's a scary thing to take on the responsibility of a home and family, and I want to make sure I know what I'm doing.

DAVID EUGENE LOSEE LIFE HISTORY
written by his mother June

David Eugene Losee was born at the Fillmore Hospital in Millard County, Utah on 21 mar 1954. He was a sparkling red-haired blue-eyed boy, and was the fourth child in a family of eight, five girls and three boys. He was also the first child born to Eugene Douglas and June Memmott Shurtz Losee.

He was raised in Sugarville, Utah on a 200 acre farm and at an early age learned about irrigating, cutting, baling, and hauling hay, operating and repairing farm equipment. He liked gardening and landscaping and his childhood was enjoyable. He learned to love nature and it's bounteous beauty.

He went on the hunts with his family to be close to the hills and streams, walking over the mountain ranges, camping and cooking and watching the stars on a clear night, instead of wanting to kill the animals.

David was very conscious of keeping his body in good physical condition. He was athletic and participated in many sports; including swimming, scuba diving, tennis, skiing, roller and ice skating and wrestling. He liked jogging, lifting weights and exercising at the gym.

Dave was very talented and was an excellent student. He played the piano, accordion, guitar, harmonica, drums, and composed music. He was a willing participant in the school plays, operas, acapella choir and church functions. When he was given the part of "Motel" in the high school opera "Fiddler On The Roof," he did an outstanding performance. He had a beautiful voice, and enjoyed singing in the "Messiah."

After graduating from Delta High, he attended one year at Snow College in Ephraim, Utah where he was active in drama and musicals, learned stone sculpturing, and was also a radio announcer at the Manti radio station. Photograph and learning to develop his own pictures was an interesting hobby. Cooking was also one of his talents, and he could whip up a great chiffon cake.

Serving as a missionary in the Tallahassee Florida mission from Sept. 1973 until Sept 1975 for the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter-Day Saints was a spiritual growth for him. He served in that capacity as a district and zone leader.

After returning from his mission, he attended Brigham Young University in Provo, Utah where he planned to become a teacher in elementary education, later changing his major to physical therapy.

He was a life guard at the Helaman Halls pool at BYU, assistant manager, and manager for awhile. He received recognition for swimming 100 miles.

He was scheduled to graduate from BYU in the spring of 1978.

Two weeks after his 24th birthday;, he was called back to his eternal home, after being involved in an automobile accident. He died April 9, 1978 and was buried April 12, 1978 at the Delta, Utah cemetery.

David was a very compassionate individual and he had many close friends. He was dependable and always willing to go the extra mile when someone needed assistance. He took advantage of his many opportunities during his short time here on earth. His tragic death has left many memories; but a void in the lives of his family and friends.

Crashes kill 2; injuries claim a third victim

Two persons were killed in separate two-vehicle crashes over the weekend, one involving a car driven by the St. George police chief, and a girl died of injuries suffered when she fell from a pickup truck last week.

The three deaths raise Utah's 1978 traffic fatality toll to 66, compared with 69 at this time last year.

KILLED:

John J. Wheeler, 89, Ivins, Washington County.

Joyce Lee, 13, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. Wallace Lee, Panguitch.

David Losee, 24, Delta.

Wheeler was injured at 12:35 p.m. Saturday when his car and a police car driven by St. George Police Chief Joseph Hutchings collided at 500 South and Main Street in St. George.

Wheeler ran a stop sign and pulled in front of the police car, which was southbound on Main Street, according to Utah Highway Patrol reports. The victim died several hours later in Dixie Medical Center. Hutchings was not injured.

Because a police car and officer were involved, the accident was investigated by the highway patrol instead of city police.

Losee was killed Sunday at 12:40 a.m. when the car in which he was riding was struck by a pickup truck, which the highway patrol said also ran a stop sign.

The accident occurred two miles west of Nephi on U-132.

Utah Highway Patrol Trooper Paul Mangelsen said a car driven by Losee's brother, Steve D., 20, was westbound on the highway when it was struck broadside by a pickup truck carrying three Nephi teen-agers.

Mangelsen said the truck was southbound on the airport road and failed to stop for a stop sign at the intersection.

Steve Losee was reported in serious condition today at Utah County Hospital in Nephi.

Mangelsen said it had not yet been determined which of the three youths in the truck, Larry A. Anderson, 17; Todd Robinson, 18, or Kevin Fowkes, 18, was driving.

Anderson was treated and released and Fowkes and Robinson were listed in good condition today at the hospital.

David Eugene Losee

DELTA, Millard County — David Eugene Losee, 24, died April 9, 1978 of injuries suffered in an automobile accident.

Born March 21, 1954, Pleasanton, California, to Eugene Douglas and June Memmott Losee. Graduate of Delta High School, attended one year at Snow College, before serving two years in the Alabama-Florida LDS mission. He was currently attending BYU, where he also worked as the post manager of Helaman Hall.

Survivors: parents, Delta; brothers and sisters: Roger, Mrs. Floyd (Barbara) Hastings, Granger, Mrs. Robert (Bev) Alford, Deane; Steven, Orin; Sheila, Marsha and Cindy, all Delta; half-brother Roger Shurtz, Grand View, Idaho; grandmother: Lilly Memmott, Salt Lake City; stepgrandmothers: Manilla Masterton, Provo; Stella Shurtz, Delta.

Funeral services Wednesday, 11 a.m., Sutherland Ward LDS Chapel. Friends may call Tuesday, 7-9 p.m., at St. Michael's and Wednesday at the church one hour prior to services. Burial in the Delta Cemetery.

VANCE AND MARSHA LOVELL
By Marsha

This year I was pregnant most of the year. My sister, Cindy, and I were due a week apart and we had the same doctor, so we would schedule our appointments at the same time. We had alot of fun visiting and comparing our fat bellies.

During the summer, I spent most of my time taking care of our yard and garden and found out it is alot of work.

On September 10th at 5:42 P.M., Kristy Lynn was born to us at Utah Valley Hospital in Provo, Utah. She weighed 7 lbs. 8 oz. and was 20-1/2 inches long. She is so sweet and reminds us alot of Karalee when she was a baby.

Karalee will be three years old in February and is alot of fun to have around. She loves to play outside. She is just getting over the chicken pox along with most of the grandkids. They all got exposed on Thanksgiving Day so we got it over within one shot.

I was the Star B teacher in our ward until August. This class was really a challenge for me. There were 13 very active kids in my class, and I didn't think I could handle them after Kristy was born so I was put in as Primary Inservice Leader. This calling is a good experience, even though it's scary, cause I've never taught adults before. I am sure that I'm learning more than I am teaching though.

Vance is still teaching Sunday School and is 2nd counselor in the Elder's Quorum Presidency. These jobs keep him busy. In his spare time, he did yard work, played baseball and basketball and helped his parents wire a new room in their house and put a new roof on also.

BERDELL AND HELEN AND FAMILY
Gleaned from letters and conversations

In July Berdell had both hands operated on for Corporal Tunnel.

Vincent and DeeAnn had a son born to them 12 April 1988. They named him James Ammon Memmott after his great great grandfather.

Marilee and Max had a daughter born 28 November 1988.
They named her Carlee Wood.

Relationship of Submitter to Husband _____ Wife _____

Dear Family and Friends:

Where has this last year gone? As we get older time just seems to be on a speedy train. We hope that each one of you are doing well and have somewhat of good health. Boy what a blessing good health is. May we extend to each of you our love and blessings. Mel and Nancy do love our creator and all the many blessings that we receive from him.

Jared our ten year old is just a happy young man. Top of his group in scouting. He has to work at his homework but keeps hanging in there. He enjoys sports of all kinds, especially soccer and football. He takes piano classes and has been attending a class at U of U on Indian Cultures. How empty our home would be without him. Boy does he enjoy the BYU games.

Alicia is in her second year at the Utah Valley Community College and is serving on the executive council and Pres. of Lambda Delta Sigma, so she has been very busy. She dates alot and busy in all of her activities. We enjoy so much when she comes home every other week-end and fills our home with laughter and friends. She has a beautiful voice and enjoys music so much.

Suzette, our middle daughter, got married this last April to Mike Murdock. What a cute couple that they are. Suzette graduated, got engaged and got her job all in the same week-end, but that's our Suzy. She is a System Analysis with Utah County and is busy pursuing her career and helping Mike with his schooling. Mike should graduate next summer and then plans on going for three more years to get his law degree. What a lovely apartment that they have. They are teaching the family relations class in their ward. They are both goal oriented and enjoy life.

Melanie, our oldest, Bill and Christina are in Scottsdale, where Bill's dental practice is. Melanie came up and spent about a month this August and went to BYU for some classes. She should be coming up again next August and completing her degree at the Y. We are very proud of this young lady and her husband. Of course we think that Christina is the cutest grandchild around. Melanie is serving as Spiritual Living teacher and Bill is first Councilor in the Bishopic.

Mel is still with the U S Weather Service. He just completed 30 years with the Government. He is a member of the Utah Symphony Choir and is our Webelos Leader. Nancy is really busy with her job as credit manager and plans on taking some night classes all next year at Utah Tech. Her eye is legally blind but now that the hemorrhaging has stopped can see about 5% around the outside, which we are grateful for. She teaches a Primary Class of Jared's age, and if you know Nancy is involved a little in PTA this year, her Literary Club, etc.

We have tried to share a little of our lives and would so appreciate hearing from each of you. LOVE AND BLESSINGS

Mel, Nancy, Alicia and Jared

Christmas Letter From The MEMMOTS

"1988 "

DEAR FRIENDS AND FAMILY:

1988 has been an unusual year for us. We are a little more quiet and reserved this year end. Maybe a little more humble and that probably isn't too bad. Yet we have many blessings and for this we are grateful.

Mel is still enjoying his job at the U.S. Government Weather Service. He has been out there close to ten years now. He does travel more and this we don't enjoy as much but when he is with us we appreciate him that much more. He is the Webloes Scout Leader and he does a wonder job with his group. They are always the top in the Stake and the many hours spent are very rewarding hours for him. He still sings solos in a lot of programs and wards and has been busy this year repainting most of the rooms in our house and redoing many walls, etc. Really has our home looking beautiful.

Nancy is still Credit Manager at her job, which keeps her busy much more than 40 hours a week but she finally says that she has learned her job and is relaxing a little bit more. She is a Primary Teacher, is on the Board of Directors for the NACM Utah Womens Credit Group, and so spends a lot of time with her career right now. She still finds time to spend prime time with each of her children always making sure that they are first in her life. She had eye surgery again this year, but as you know Nancy she just keeps busy.

Bill and Melanie and Christina and Jennifer, this is our cute little family. Besides Bill's dental practice keeping him busy he is first councilor in the Bishopric, so he is indeed busy. He has a hobby of wood work and makes the most beautiful items, like book cases, finish work in their home. He has a great talent indeed. Melanie still is Spiritual Living Teacher and beautiful mother of two darling girls. Christina turned two and is a busy typical cute two year old. On November 11th, Jennifer Rosemary was born. What a doll she is and so good. They are really a little family now.

Suzette is still holding down a busy and demanding job, with Utah County, but it is an excellent job and is over several people, we are very proud of this young girl. It was with much sadness in our lives that Suzy had her marriage annulled. There were several problems that made this step necessary. She recently had a large lump removed and had surgery. It wasn't cancer but they were concerned. What a hard and growing year for her. She is keeping her apartment and job and involved in her ward as a home making leader. She is also teaching craft classes to several groups. She is talented and we hope that her future will be happy for her.

Alicia and Jim were married on September 15, 1988 this year. They met at Utah Valley Community College, where Alicia was Sorority Pres. and Jim, Vice Pres. of his group. They had such a lovely wedding day and reception. They are both continuing their education and struggling with all the other young couples in Provo Valley. Jim is working part time and both are holding church positions in their ward. We are so grateful for a fine young man like Jim in our family.

Jared is a very active eleven year old busy with scouting, piano, sports, being a sixth grade student, taking basket ball lessons in January. Jared is still quiet and being so much younger than his sisters is being raised as an only child. But he is fun, loves to spend time with his Dad and wants a computer for Christmas. What a great thrill to have him bless our home.

Just a few thoughts FROM OUR HOME TO YOUR HOME. Again it has been a busy and serious year for us. However we love each one of you, and ask the Lord's Blessings to be over each of you.

Mel, Nancy, and Jared
We send you our love!

NOTES FROM MEL FOR 1988

Mel has been retired from the Tabernacle Choir for 5-1/2 years and misses it greatly. He still leads music in Priesthood and sings in ward and stake choirs. He has been Webelos leader for 1-1/1 years. He is working harder than ever at the Weather Service with more equipment and less men than last year.

Nancy is very busy as Credit Manager for Debenham Electric. She has learned to do her job very well and was elected the Program chairman of Utah Credit Womans's organization. She is going to New Mexico in February for a convention. She keeps the business booming.

Jared has been real busy with scouting and received all 20 activity badges and the Arrow of Light award. He has earned tenderfoot and almost has his 2nd class. He likes school, fishing, and all sports.

Suzette is in school working for her MBA. She is a systems analyst working for Utah county. She got a new car so she wouldn't break down on the trips home.

Alicia and Jim have been really busy with work and school since they returned from their honeymoon in September from Lake Tahoe. They are living in Springville, Utah.

LAST MINUTE NOTES FROM MEL'S FAMILY

Melvin was set apart January 15, 1989 as the Minutes Clerk in the Stake. He takes minutes at the Stake High Council meetings and Correlation meetings and record at Stake baptisms

Nancy is teaching the 10 year old class in Primary.

Jared is a 2nd class scout.

Alicia is teaching in the Primary and Jim is teaching the Teachers in Priesthood.

Suzette is still homemaking leader in Relief Society.

We are all well and happy. Alicia has a little problems with her ulcer. Nancy's good eye is still healthy and we are grateful.

Melanie is Spiritual Living Teacher in Relief Society and Bill is still 1st counselor in the Bishopric.

We love the Lord and hope you are happy and well.

Relationship of Submitter to Husband _____ Wife _____

Bill and Melanie
Choules

Our most exciting news this year is the recent birth of our second child, and daughter - Jennifer Rosemary Choules. She was born November 11, 1988 in Scottsdale, Arizona. Her vitals were: 8 lbs., 4 1/2 oz., and 21 " long. She is an easy baby to care for and we think she is very cute also. Her big sister, Christina, age 2, loves to help do everything for the baby - she's almost too helpful. Bill and I are enjoying the rewards and challenges of another child, and we are very grateful for the wonderful blessings the Lord has given to us this year.

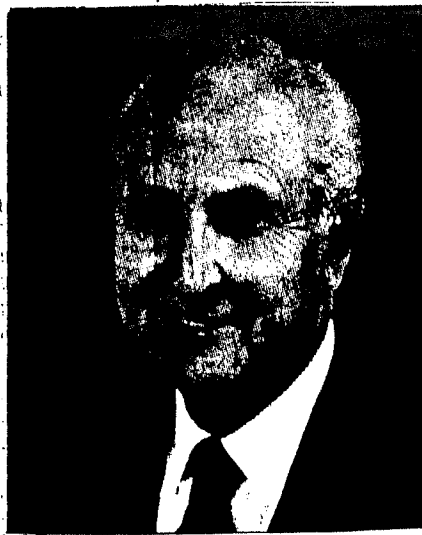

Bill's dental practice is continuing to build and he has had his most productive year yet. He is in his 3rd year as a councilor in the bishopric, where he serves over the Primary, Youth, and Scouting programs in the ward. In his spare time he enjoys wood-working in our back patio. (He wishes he had a large garage or shed to keep everything set up in.) He has built many items for our home and he has improved it both in beauty and in added storage area.

Melanie is enjoying a new baby in the house even at 3:00 am. She continues to serve as spiritual living teacher for Relief Society. Teaching is a rewarding experience because of the learning you receive as you prepare the lesson each month. Melanie spent a month (September) in Utah this year for her sister's wedding. It was fun for her to be home for such a long time. She enjoys Arizona but still misses her family very much, and the time that she spends with them is precious. Melanie's mom and dad came down for a week when the baby was born. It was a treat to have them here. They were a great help to everyone, and it was nice for all of us to be together.

Christina is two years old now. She loves to play with kids her age, especially on Sundays in the nursery. She loves to help set the table, fold and put away clothes, and help Daddy fix anything that's broken. She is learning to count, and the alphabet, and her colors. Christina is very independent yet very caring and loving. She gets upset when anyone else cries and wants to make sure you're o.k. if you cough, or cry or anything that is different.

Jenny has brought a new love to our family and home. She is delightful, and precious. We look forward to seeing her grow and develop her own personality. We have had a good year and we love the Lord. We pray we may continue in his blessings and goodness in the 1989 year.

As an added note, Bill's father was called in October General Conference this year to the Quorum of Seventy as a General Authority. They have moved to Salt Lake City and he will serve in this calling for 5 years. This is an exciting time for us, and for him and his new wife, Marilyn. There are a lot of sacrifices and blessings that go along with such a calling both for the one called, and for their family. We hope to be able to support him and Marilyn in this calling and any others that come to them.

New callings First Quorum of the Seventy

Elder Albert Choules Jr.

Elder Choules, 62, has served as a regional representative since November 1987. He was president of the New York New York City Mission from 1980-1983. He was president of the Scottsdale Arizona Stake, 1974-1980; and was a counselor in that stake presidency, 1968-1974; and on its high council, 1963-1968. He served in the Eastern States Mission, 1946-1948.

He was born Feb. 15, 1926, in Driggs, Idaho, to Albert and Rula Wilson Choules. He graduated from BYU in 1951, and received a master of business administration degree from Harvard Graduate School of Business in 1953. He has been employed in personal investing.

He married Rosemary Phillips, June 24, 1952, in the Idaho Falls Temple; she died in June 27, 1984. He married Marilyn Jeppson, June 8, 1987, in the Salt Lake Temple. He is father of two sons and a daughter; and step-father of two sons and a daughter.

Testimony built on firm foundation

BY GERRY AVANT
Church News assistant editor

Elder Albert Choules Jr. was a missionary in the Eastern States Mission when a certain awareness dawned on him.

"I was sitting in a district conference with about nine other missionaries when, all of a sudden, I realized what I had been taught from childhood by faithful parents was true," recalled Elder Choules, 62, who was sustained Oct. 1 to the First Quorum of the Seventy.

"While I had relied on my parents' testimonies during my time in the military and the early part of my mission, I knew — in that moment — that I had my own foundation, that I had my own testimony."

Nearly 40 years have passed since that dawning. Neither the passage of time, nor the trials and sorrows of life have been able to dim the brightness of his testimony.

Having an awareness of his own testimony was important. All his life, he had lived in the protective shadow of his father, Albert Choules Sr., a man many regarded as a "legend in his own time," a "spiritual giant" who served 27 years as a stake president before being called to preside over the Southern States Mission.

Albert Jr. was born and reared in the southeastern Idaho community of Driggs, where his father owned a car dealership. "Albert was always very serious and very dedicated in anything he did, whether work or play," said Lou Jean Tingey, one of his younger sisters.

"He is the oldest son in the family. [He has two older sisters, a brother, and two younger sisters.] He has been a hard worker from the earliest time I can remember. When he was a boy and young man, he worked for farmers and also cleaned the furnace at the hospital. When he came home and saw Mother needed help, he would mop the floor. Several times, after he had worked long hours in the field, he would make a freezer of ice cream for a party one of his sisters was having.

"Albert is probably one of the most caring, generous people who has ever lived. He has always put others first; he has always been concerned about other people more than about himself."

Elder Albert Choules Jr., photographed with his wife, Marilyn, was sustained Oct. 1 to First Quorum of the Seventy.

Driggs was an almost idyllic setting for a young boy to grow up. Because Elder Choules' father was stake president, the family often had General Authorities as guests in their home, sometimes two of them at a time. He grew up with a reverence for the Brethren.

Although he knew apostles and prophets, Elder Choules' greatest role model was his father. "Before I was born, he was called as a stake president," said Elder Choules. "He was the stake president who counseled me through all my growing-up years, and he was the stake president who sent me on my mission. He was called to serve as president of the Southern States Mission after I was called to serve in the Eastern States Mission."

Elder Choules said he felt the full power and value of his father's counsel and example the first time he left the little town of Driggs. "I served in the U.S. Marine Corps during World War II," he said. "I joined during my senior year of high school. It was a different kind of life to leave Driggs where nearly everyone was a Latter-day Saint and go to San Diego, Calif., to begin my military experience. But I had great parents who had taught me what was right. The memory of my mother and her teachings, and of my father kept me from getting into areas that I should not have been. The teachings from my home became the foundation for keeping me headed in the direction I should go."

With those teachings, he discovered being in the Marine Corps "wasn't all that difficult. I had a lot of good friends in the military who were not members of the Church, but they had the same standards. I learned you can find people with high standards anywhere you look, in or out of the Church, if they are the kind of people you are looking for."

His military service lasted more than two years, January 1944 to August 1946. On the first Sunday he was home from the military service, his bishop talked to him about going on a mission. Just a few months later, in November, he was on his way to the Eastern States Mission, where he served two years.

"I had a choice experience of spending seven months on an Indian reservation in western New York," he recalled. "That experience gave me an insight into the Lamanite people, and fostered a love for them that I have carried from that time on."

"I developed an understanding of the Book of Mormon while living with some descendants of its people, the Lamanites. That was a long time ago, but I still have a great love for the Book of Mormon and for the Indian peoples."

After he returned home from his mission, Elder Choules enrolled at LDS Business College in Salt Lake City, and then at BYU, receiving a bachelor's degree in 1951. His degree was not his most important accomplishment at BYU. While there, he met Rosemary Phillips from Lehi, Utah. They were married June 24, 1952, in the Idaho Falls Temple. Born to them were three children: William, Robert and Tamara (Mrs. Lawrence W. Pinnock).

After Elder Choules received a master of business administration degree from Harvard in 1953, he began work in Los Angeles, Calif., as a financial analyst for an oil company. In 1955, the family moved to Phoenix, Ariz., where he worked for a savings and loan company, becoming senior vice president for the firm and president of an affiliated hotel chain. He and four business associates bought the hotel chain in 1976, and he continued as its president until he was called to preside over the New York City Mission, 1980-83.

Elder Choules' daughter said, "My father has had a complete willingness to serve the Lord. When he was called as mission president, he sold his part of the hotel business without having to stop and think about it. His only reaction to any Church calling has been, 'Yes, I will serve.' Then he deals with the details and possible problems later."

"His desire and willingness to serve have been unwavering. He missed my wedding and my brothers' graduations while he was presiding over the mission in New York, but he never gave any indication that he ever felt his Church service was getting in the way of his personal interests. His attitude has always been, 'If it is service to the Lord then it is not a sacrifice.'"

Sadness marred the last month and a half of Elder and Sister Choules' missionary service in New York. In May 1983, she was diagnosed as having cancer. She died June 27, 1984, just three days after their 32nd wedding anniversary.

On June 8, 1987, he married Marilyn Jeppson Lowry, mother of three living children: Michelle, James and Jonathan Lowry. Her two youngest daughters, Jena and Denise, died in an automobile accident in 1978.

Sister Marilyn Choules has been working on a Ph.D. in educational psychology and has been a clinical counselor in a private practice in Mesa, Ariz.

In a talk during the priesthood session of general conference in October, just a few hours after he was sustained to the First Quorum of the Seventy, Elder Choules said, "My current wife, my bride of 15 months, has promised that with Rosemary, my first wife, pulling for me on the other side of the veil, and with her [Marilyn] pulling for me on this side, I will succeed."

At the time he was called as a General Authority, Elder Choules had been serving as a regional representative. From 1984-January 1988, he served the Phoenix Arizona North and Phoenix Arizona West regions. Since January he has served the Albuquerque New Mexico and El Paso Texas regions.

He earlier served as president of the Scottsdale Arizona Stake, and was a counselor in that stake presidency and a member of two bishoprics. He also was serving as a sealer in the Arizona Temple at the time he was called as a General Authority.

GRANT AND RUTH AND FAMILY
 Gleaned from letters

In May, Grant had a boil lanced. Then in June he went to the LDS hospital and had a tumor removed from his little toe.

In July, Glenda and Richard saw Kent at the Hill Cumorah pageant. Kent is serving a mission in the Rochester New York mission. He also served in the ward that Cindy and Justin Peatross moved to in Rochester, New York.

The First Book of Russell

Chapter one

1 To whom ever it may concern,

My name is Russell Dean Hansen and I am 16 years old. I have moved from Salt Lake City to Portland Connecticut; and I am living with Glenda and Richard Black at the moment.

2 I am presently attending School at Portland High School in the portland high E.B.C.E (EXPERIENCE BASED CAREER EDUCATION) PROGRAM. I am also taking classes in speaking French; I am carried to and from school on a bus; and pamela and kim usually tag along with me on the bus at that time.

3 On wednesdays after school pam, kim, patrick, jeffrey, and myself usually go to Mia at Church; this usually ends around nine or ten o'clock. Occasionally I am learning how to type on the computer and I usually fiddle around with programs on the computer.

4 I am always receiving letters from Provo and S.L.C. UTAH and am constantly writing back. some of these people are: Tammy Hansen, Veola Hansen, Linda and Teena Hansen, Ken and Diana Hsu, Lisa Christison, Lynnet K. Leak, and Jennifer Grandjean.

5 On my spare time I like to listen to music, play around with electronic gadgets, talking with people on the phone, reading good books, attending Church, and I like to be in style so I like to look at fashion magazines.

6 I would like to dedicate this part of my history to a great friend of mine Jennifer Grandjean.

VEOLA AND CARROLL HANSEN AND FAMILY

The year 1988 was a very memorable one for the Hansen family. In February, Diana was informed she might possibly have twins, but in March, after an ultrasound she was told she was expecting quadruplets. She was admitted to the University Hospital so that she would not lose them.

Our summer became a very busy one. Tammy moved into Diana and Ken's to take care of their family. A lot of care and concern and a few months later, Diana and Ken received four wonderful and sweet babies into their lives. They named them Jeremy, Leslie, Sherry and Tiffany Hsu. Each weighed a little over 2 lbs and were born 2 1/2 months premature. Jeremy was ill from the time of birth, having yellow jaundice, open heart surgery and his lungs were filling with a fluid. In three short weeks Jeremy went back to be with his Heavenly Father. Leslie, Tiffany, and Sherry are doing fine now and growing as usual.

In November, Tammy got her mission call to Copenhagen, Denmark and leaves from the MTC to go to Denmark January 2, 1989.

Carroll is still in the Care Center. It is now called the Woodland Park Care Center.

Veola started a new job for Catalina Sportswear. She is the Home Management teacher in Relief Society. This has been about the busiest year yet. Hope next year gets better.

Jeremy K. Hsu

Jeremy Kenneth Hsu, infant son of Ching-Jing (Ken) and Diana Lynn Hansen Hsu, returned to his Heavenly Father, August 2, 1988.

He was born a quadruplet, July 12, 1988, his three sisters still survive.

He is survived by his parents, three sisters, Sherry Chen, Tiffany Lee and Leslie Fan; three half-sisters, Julie, Lisa and Stacy Christian; grandparents, Tyza Chen Hsu, Chi Chen, Carroll and Veola Hansen.

Funeral services will be held Saturday, 11 a.m., Redwood Memorial Estates, 6600 So. Redwood Rd., where friends may call two hours prior to services. Burial: Redwood Memorial Estates. Funeral Directors: Memorial Estates Mortuary.

(CHING-JING) KEN AND DIANA HSU
JEREMY, LESLIE, SHERRY AND TIFFANY HSU
JULIE, LISA, AND STACY CHRISTISON

1988 has not been an easy year for our family by far, but it has been a year of "growth."

On March 18, 1988, we discovered through ultra sound that we were going to add four to our collection.

Three weeks later, Diana was put in the hospital and stayed there until she delivered. During those 3 1/2 months, family and extended family were so kind and helpful during this difficult time. We would like to thank everyone who gave of their services.

On July 12, Jeremy Kenneth (2lbs. 1oz.), Leslie Fan (2lbs. 3oz.), Sherry Chan (2lbs. 4 oz.), Tiffany Lee (2lbs. 3 oz.) were born. On August 2, 1988, Jeremy Kenneth Hsu returned to his Heavenly Father. At about three months of age, Leslie, Sherry, and Tiffany, came home from the hospital. That same week, Diana had knee surgery and Ken was out of town. Grandma Veola Hansen and Aunt Annavon Dodge helped out a great deal during those first weeks.

Ken has been expanding his art career this year. He keeps himself busy doing graphic illustrations, art designs for advertising and personal portraits, etc. Ken has photographed the recent pictures submitted by our family this year.

Ken baptized Julie on February 6, 1988. He also had the unique opportunity of blessing three daughters, Leslie, Sherry, and Tiffany all the same day on 11 December 1988. He did a beautiful job.

Diana has recovered from her almost four months in the hospital. She keeps herself extremely busy with all her six children. In her spare time, which is hardly any, she plans to write a book about her and Ken's experiences this year.

Julie is taking ballet lessons and does very well teaching herself on the piano. She helps her Mom alot with the new babies. Julie was baptized on February 6 of this year.

Lisa is learning about art and is a very good artist. She also loves to perform magic tricks. Lisa is a good worker and helps her mom with work around the house. Lisa is looking forward to being baptized in July of 1989.

Stacy has been going to preschool this year and loves it. She has many friends. Stacy has interests in dancing. She also helps her mom with her new sisters.

Leslie is an outgoing baby. She loves to tell you stories. She has grown and developed very well.

Sherry is a sweet girl. She has a "mis-model" personality. She is very quiet and loves to lay and watch you.

Tiffany is a bubbly, wiggly, baby. Mom predicts she will walk first. She loves to talk up a storm and has a laid-back personality. Nothing seems to bother her too much.

Diana Hsu

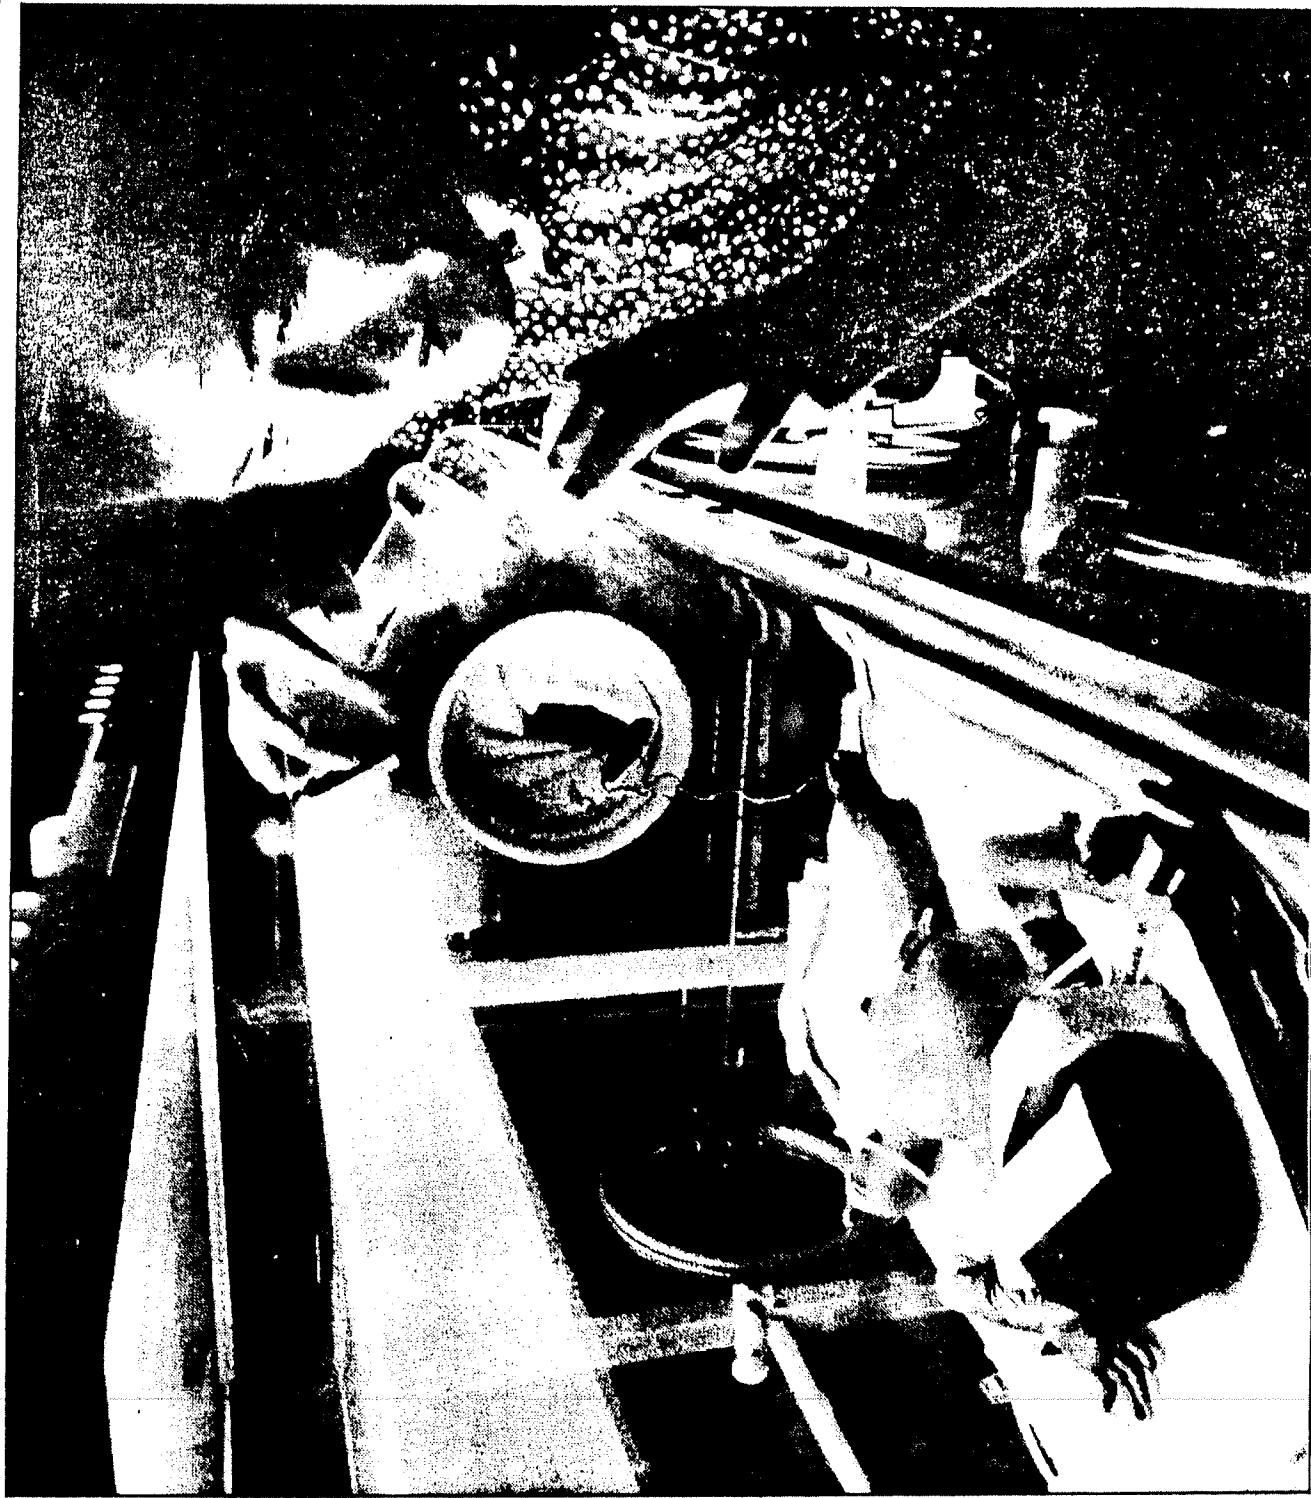

Family adds 3 more girls and a boy

By JoAnn Jacobsen-Wells
Deseret News medical writer

Just when you thought the baby boom was over . . .

More quadruplets were born this week at the University Hospital — the second set delivered in Salt Lake City this year.

Starting at 12:27 a.m. Tuesday, Diana Hsu first gave birth to a boy, followed by a girl, followed by another girl and — then for good measure — yet another girl.

PHOTOGRAPH BY GARY MCKELLAR
Ken Ching-Jing Hsu admires his daughter Tiffany Lee, one of three girl quadruplets. He also has three older daughters.

QUADS

The quadruplets, delivered Caesarean section by Dr. Michael Varner, were 12 weeks early. Jeremy Kenneth, Leslie Fan, Sherry Chen and Tiffany Lee — who weighed from 2 pounds 1 ounce to 2 pounds 4 ounces — were all listed in serious condition Friday in the hospital's newborn intensive care unit.

But Varner said the babies are progressing nicely. "They are all appropriate weight for their gestational age, which certainly is helpful in their overall prognosis," he said.

Coincidentally, the Hsus were the second Holladay couple to deliver quads this year. Scott and Sherri Cook's quadruplets were born at LDS Hospital March 15. Both Holladay women were taking clomid, a mild fertility drug prescribed to enhance ovulation. Women taking the drug frequently have twins; quads are rare.

It was the second set of quads delivered at the U. Hospital. An Idaho woman, participating in the in-vitro fertilization program, gave birth to four babies last year.

To ensure the safe arrival of the Hsu quads, Diana was hospitalized 15 weeks ago while "Daddy Ken" — with help from relatives — cared for the couple's three other children — Julie, 8; Lisa, 7; and Stacy, 4. Last week Diana was given medication to prevent premature labor.

But Tuesday, the babies defied mom and medicine by announcing their eagerness to come into the world.

Immediately upon delivery, surfactant, a protein taken from calves' lungs, was administered to keep the small air sacs in the babies' lungs open, enabling them to get enough life-saving oxygen.

The U. Hospital is one of only eight facilities in the country approved by the federal Food and Drug Administration to administer this breakthrough drug.

"It's by far the single largest advancement in terms of perinatal care and quality perinatal survival," Varner said. "By far the most significant problem with premature babies is respiratory distress syndrome — immature lungs. Ten years ago the survival rate for babies this size was 10-20 percent.

"Last year it increased to between 80 and 90 percent. The drug has made a major difference."

Though optimistic, Diana and Ken fully realize that their children aren't out of the woods — yet.

"It's overwhelming to go into the ICU and see them," an understandably exhausted mother said. "It's hard to believe that it really happened. It's like I am still in a dream and wondering when I am going to wake up. But it's a happy and exciting dream.

"I'll just be glad to get them all home and put some weight on them. They are all so tiny right now, it scares you to touch them."

Diana may be released from the hospital early next week. "They haven't given me an exact date when they are going to set me free," she joked. Her babies likely will be hospitalized for another several weeks, depending on their progress.

Meanwhile, a whole crew of relatives are helping out. In the couple's Holladay apartment, Mary items, including cribs and newborn baby clothing, have been donated by generous friends and relatives.

But the parents aren't naive about the tremendous expenses facing them.

Initially, their primary concern was insurance coverage. In March, the couple received notification that FHP would no longer renew its contract with Dairy Queen of Utah, where Diana and Ken were employed.

However, FHP offered, and Diana accepted, a conversion plan that pays 80 percent of their medical expenses.

Still, Ken Ching-Jing Hsu, who immigrated from Taiwan five years ago, knows that providing for his four premature infants and their three older sisters isn't going to be cheap. Although his bachelor's degree is in fine arts, he has been making two Dairy Queen drive-ins while launching a career as a professional artist.

Diana and Ken Hsu are awaiting four additions to their family.

LAWRENCE DEVON MEMMOTT

I moved to Connecticut the first of May 1988. Richard and Glenda invited me to stay with them and look for work, so I did. I am employed as a security officer for Security Services of Connecticut. I work at the Exchange Building in Farmington, Connecticut. It is a large office building with several restaurants in it. I am getting really homesick for the west. I hope to be able to move back in the near future.

I live in East Hartford, Connecticut, with Sister Irene Lindquist. Two LDS missionaries also stay with her. She is really a nice lady. Everyone just loves her.

My son, Kevin, got married 4 November 1988, in the Salt Lake Temple to Alesia Barnes. They live at McGuire Air Force Base in New Jersey. Kevin is in the airframe.

Robert, my other son, is also in the airforce at Mountain Home, Idaho. He has been assigned to go to Japan in July 1989. He will be taking his family with him. They will live there three years.

Dear Family,

In Japanese they have a saying, "Koo-in ya no gotoshi" (光陰矢の如し) which basically means "Time flies like an arrow." That has been particularly true of this past year. Time and transfers have taken me from Tokushima to Fukuyama to Hiroshima to Tokuyama and back to a different area in Hiroshima (pronounced without an accent on the second syllable.) I'm sure these names mean little or nothing to most of you, but they will always be special to me for the many experiences I've had while serving there.

My current area, Yasufurichi (literally "cheap old city"), is on the northern outskirts of Hiroshima and consists mostly of two long valleys between mountain ranges. In the four months I've been here my bicycle has suffered some minor damage, especially to the over-worked gears. But, despite the hills, it's a great area.

A mission is not the easiest of labors, but it has to be one of the most rewarding. I've grown to love the people here and in the process have come to love my own family even more. As the new year commences I hope and pray that we will always remember that we are sons and daughters of our Heavenly Father. May the Lord bless you and help you in everything that you do.

Love,

Elder Alvin Black

THE R and G TRIBE AND 1988

A year of change, a year of growth, and a year of getting a little bit older.

Someone once said, that you can tell when you are getting older when all of your parts hurt, and those that don't hurt, don't work.

We added another one to our ever increasing "Tribe", a grandson named Richard Allen Black. We have also been informed that another one is on the way! When Laura and Steve have the one that is expected in March we will have a total of 17 in the R&G Tribe.

I have had the opportunity of continuing to serve as the Bishop of the Ward, a call that I have enjoyed now for over 5 years. The Ward has grown and we continue to see new members join the Church.

Alvin will be coming home in January. We hope to be able to go to Japan to visit with him for a few days, when he is released. Wesley is serving in the Albuquerque New Mexico mission, using the Spanish language. He is currently in El Paso Texas and expects to serve most of his mission there.

Work is still demanding a lot of time and too much travel. The company was acquired by a company from Zurich Switzerland in January, and was subsequently merged with one of our competitors. The merger brought a lot of problems, and only time will tell whether or not the company survives.

Glenda and I have attempted to invest in a little bit of Real Estate in Utah. We are hoping the economy will improve there and provide a good return on our investment dollar.

We have truly been blessed by our Father in Heaven. He continues to see fit to bless us in spite of our shortcomings, and failings. Our Testimony of the Gospel of Jesus Christ has gotten stronger and we are ever striving to live our lives so that we might be worthy of his blessings.

We are all healthy and happy and hope that you are the same. We have acquired a couple of queen size beds, so that our friends and relatives can come and visit us from time to time. So far we have had a few friends, but very few relatives. Shame on You! The country is beautiful here, and we would love to show it to you.

I guess it is time for me to say goodbye.

Love Richard.

1988 IN THE LIFE OF GLENDA BLACK

For the last four months of 1987 we had my nephew, Bruce Shurtz, live with us. Shortly after the new year he went home.

After Bruce left, we decided to give the children's bedrooms a facelift and invested some time and money into making them the kind of room they wanted. Pamela, Kimberlee, and Patrick were each to have a room of their own. For Patrick, however, this was short-lived, because for most of the rest of the year we have had someone else here living with us, which has used the bedroom he was to have. He has been a very good sport about it.

Grandpa Black was with us at Christmas and a while after. Richard's sister, Karen, visited with us for a few day in February. Laura and Steve stayed with us for two months while they were waiting for the closing on their condo. About a week after they had moved into their condo, Wesley came home from BYU. Shortly after that Devon came to live with us for a short while until he found a job and got a place to live.

The day we took Wesley to the airport, we picked up another nephew of mine, Russell Hansen. He has been going to school and working while living with us. In January, Alvin will be coming home from his mission. We feel fortunate that we have learned to be flexible in bedroom arrangements. It looks like it will be at least another 9-10 months before Patrick will get a room to himself.

Richard and I celebrated our 25th wedding anniversary this year. We went to Boston, Massachusetts for a couple of days and just did whatever we pleased.

During 1988, Richard and I and all of the children who were living at home (Wesley on down) all had occassion to have a physical examination. The Dr.'s really made money on us this year. I needed an exam since I was going to girl's camp as the camp music director. I couldn't ever remember having had a tetanus shot or tine test so I had to get them. Now I can sympathize with the poor babies who are cross after they have had their immunizations. Girls camp was a good experience and I had a lot of fun. I plan on going back next year.

The highlight of our summer was participation in the Hill Cumorah Pageant. This was our fifth time there, but this year was the first time for the new script. It was a delight participating there and all of the children want to return next year. We have already sent in our papers and been accepted. In 1988, we stayed at the Hobart college. In 1989, we are going to stay at a campsite.

While we were at pageant a lightning storm struck and hit the pump in our well so when we got back we had to have it replaced.

Another highlight of the summer was taking the children to the Washington D.C. temple where those old enough were able to do baptism for the dead for those people we had submitted names for. In the process of submitting names we realized that in the Scandinavian countries where they used the patronymic surnames that we automatically knew the first name of each of the fathers of the last people on the pedigree. We called the Genealogical Society to see if all those people could be submitted. They told us yes so they have been submitted and will soon have their work done for them.

While at the temple, the children were also able to go into the temple and witness Melissa being sealed to us June 2. That was a neat experience and we were glad that Grandpa Black could be there also.

Also on that same trip we were privileged to be with Wesley on June 3, when he received his endowments. He received a mission call to serve in the New Mexico, Albuquerque Mission to the Spanish Speaking people. He invited each of the members of the family to participate in his farewell through either speaking or singing or both. We had an open house at our home for him and he went into the MTC September 7, 1988 and left for his mission area November 9, after spending two months in the MTC at Provo.

Three of our children, Wesley, Pamela, and Kimberlee, each received their patriarchal blessing this year. It was a neat experience to be part of each of them.

This year we have attempted to invest in real estate in Utah with very little down payment and having the owner carry the contract if possible. We have made several trips to Utah and have felt very good about what we have been able to accomplish and hope to continue in that direction.

While I was in Utah last, I took Pamela with me to check out BYU. Since I had just celebrated my birthday the week before, my sisters decided to have a party for me. What I thought was going to be "going out to dinner" turned out to be dinner at Inga's and a sleepover. Needless to say, there wasn't much sleeping that night, but we had a good time. I believe it was the first time I had ever spent an evening with all of my sisters together. We had an opportunity to talk about many things which were very enlightening.

For Father's day the children and I decided to surprise Richard with some work in our back yard. We cleaned the area under the trees and built a serving table, a 10 foot long picnic table, and several benches around the area. We also made a place to have fires on our big rock by placing rocks around in a circle. It makes a nice place to have a picnic, but we have been so busy we haven't had the time to use it like we would like to.

While working in the yard that week, I apparently got bit by a tick. Sometime during the following week, I became very ill and began losing control of my speech, my ability to think and do things, and I developed a headache which no medicine would take away. When Richard came home in the middle of the week, I was in pretty bad shape. We discovered a rash on one of my legs, so I decided that I had better see a Dr. The Dr. and I both agreed that it must be Lyme disease and he gave me penicillin immediately. In two or three days the headache went away and I began to feel myself mending. Afterwards as I thought about it, it frightened me when I realized what was happening to me and what it could have developed into if we had not caught it soon enough. I am very grateful that it did not go any longer or there might have been long lasting effects.

One day as the children were helping to put family names into the computer, they were putting in the name of Trowbridge when they needed me to answer a question. That day when I went to get the mail, there was a postcard from Yankee magazine inviting us to subscribe to it. I was going to throw it away and just as I did I glanced down at the signature of the person who had written it. His name was Rob Trowbridge. The magazine is published in New Hampshire. The Trowbridge that the kids had been working with had settled in New Hampshire. On a long shot, I wrote a letter to Rob Trowbridge and enclosed a family group and pedigree chart. He answered my letter and gave me the page # and book to look in to find more information. I have since found the book, and xeroxed it but still have to go through the information found. I find that the genealogical information is coming to me faster that I can handle.

This fall we have been cutting down some of the trees in our yard and thinning them out so that we can get more sun into the yard. We rented a chipper-shredder and made short work of all the branches and twigs that were too small to cut up for firewood.

I recently had occasion to ponder some events. This year the last two of the seven youth whom I taught in seminary went to the temple and received their endowments. Also of the four of them who have married all have been married in the temple and three of them have married someone from another culture or country. (Peru, Japan, and Argentina). All of the boys have served or are serving missions. It is kind of fun to reflect back and think that perhaps you might have had a small influence in their lives.

My church callings this year have jumped around. I am still serving as the Primary music leader. I was released as the Primary Inservice Leader and later called to be the ward compassionate service leader (served there about five months). Then I was released from that calling and issued the call to serve as the ward music chairman. Just before this happened I had helped to spearhead a stake music workshop where one of the classes was on conducting choirs. Since receiving this calling, our regular choir leader has been very ill, so it has been my responsibility and opportunity to practice some of the skills I learned. It has been a fun experience. We put together a medley of gratitude songs where the primary children sang with us during the month of November. We are also putting on a Christmas cantata. I was very pleased that a good number of the youth of the ward have started to attend choir on a regular basis. They are really a great asset to the choir. Alvin sent us a tape with he and his companion singing some hymns in Japanese. They did such a good job that we shared them with the ward members in a sacrament meeting for the music for that week.

Our children continue to grow and progress. Guy and Maria Elena have fixed up their trailer in Provo really cute. It is very cozy. They had a baby son born to them June 13, 1988. He weighed 7 lbs 14 oz. and was 20 inches long (about the same size and his dad). He has black hair and olive complexion. Many people say that he looks like his Grandpa Black after whom he was named. He was named Richard Allen Black and blessed by his father July 3, 1988.

Laura and Steve are living about 20 miles from us and their daughter, Amy, has won the hearts of all her aunts and uncles and her Grandpa and Grandma Black.

Alvin will be returning from his mission in Japan in January. We are planning on going there to meet him.

Wesley is serving a mission to the Spanish Speaking people in the New Mexico, Albuquerque mission. Wesley was ordained an Elder 27 Dec 1987 by his father Richard Black. He was set apart as a missionary by President Douglas R. McKinlay September 4, 1988, and entered the MTC Sept. 7. He is now in El Paso, Texas.

Pamela is a senior in high school and preparing to go to college in the fall by taking the ACT AND SAT tests and taking a trip to Utah to check out BYU. She was impressed. This past year she was inducted into the National Honor Society, went to girls state, Laurel Music camp, girls camp, had a piano recital June 10. She works at Touch of Charm florist shop and enjoys it very much. She is also in a "Jazz" singing group.

Kimberlee is a sophomore. She has a job at Gotta's fruit farm where Pamela worked last year. She was on the stake YW basketball team and they went to region and placed 2nd. She attended youth conference, girls camp and the Charter Oak Conference music invitational.

Patrick plays the baritone horn in band. He had a paper route and during the summer he tended a child three days a week. While at boys camp this summer, Patrick came down with the chicken pox mid-week and had to come home. Luckily none of the other children got them. He is active in scouts and recently received his home repairs and canoeing merit badges. He is now taking piano lessons.

Jeffrey is 11 and in the sixth grade. He enjoys his saxophone and scouts.

Oliver is in the third grade. He turned eight this year and was baptized December 18, by Richard. He played pee wee soccer. He also had to have a tooth pulled. The dentist wrote him a prescription to have all the ice cream he wanted. He is now taking piano lessons.

Melissa went to a preschool and also the child development class at the high school during the first part of the year. It really helped her. She received her DPT booster and examination to attend school in April. In February she came close to being run over in the church parking lot one Sunday after church. She enjoys attending afternoon kindergarten and was in a kindergarten olympics during the olympics.

Dear Family,

As my third year of high school came to a close; I found myself bogged down with a full load of classes, work, early morning seminary, and church. School, however, ended when I was just beginning to have fun--after exams.

Just before final exams, I went to see Melissa sealed to our family for time and all eternity. I remember thinking that the temple is not only the correct place to be married; but also the most beautiful, peaceful, and more promising place in the entire world to be married. As a friend of mine puts it, I want a Forever Family. I hope I can always keep this as a goal in my life.

The summer held exciting treasures for me. The day school ended, my boss was called out of town on a family emergency. Consequently, my co-worker and I had a crash course in running a florist shop. The following week I spent at Girl's State. It gave me a better appreciation for America and what it means to be a citizen. The next week I was roughing it at Laurel Music Camp. I met some wonderful people in both places, but neither experience could stand on its own when I compared them to pageant.

Pageant was everything I could want and much more. I made history by being part of the "All New Hill Cumorah Pageant, America's Witness of Christ". Mere words can not describe the feelings, sounds, smells, and relationships I found at Pageant. I can hardly wait until next summer when we go again!

My last summer adventure was to be partly responsible for five fifteen-year old girls on an over night hike. It was an experience which taught me a great deal. By the end of the summer, I was tired of vacation and could not wait for school to start again. After two weeks of school, however, I was ready for another vacation. Afraid of being over loaded with life, I cut out some parts of my life. This has given me more time for myself and my family but adjusting to this new freedom is hard.

I hope you all have a great holiday!

Love

Pam

JEFFREY BLACK

Last winter I shoveled driveways so I could pay for my saxophone which I am now playing well. Also last winter I played indoor soccer. Last spring I was in a play called "Tall Tales and Heroes." Just before summer in cub scouts I earned my arrow of light. A few days after my 11th birthday, Oct. 11, I became a boy scout. I have already gone on a scout trip, and I am looking forward to the next one.

Love, Jeffrey Black

P.S. MERRY CHRISTMAS AND A HAPPY NEW YEAR.

November 28, 1988

Dear Family,

This past year has been an exciting one for me. My freshman year of high school was o.k., but this year is even better. But, before I talk about my sophomore year I should tell you about my summer. I went to Youth Conference (my first), on a ward youth temple trip, and to camp. Next year I'll be an Adventurer, then the year after a C.I.T. My family also went to the Hill Comorah Pageant. I hadn't been in the cast for a long time so I didn't know what to expect. But, I had a really great time anyway. I meet a lot of friends that I still write to now. We've already been accepted for next year and I can't wait. It was a busy summer and on top of it all I worked at a fruit stand. Now on to the school year. All of my classes are o.k., but nothing great. I do have a keyboarding class, so I am typing this. Up until last Wednesday, I was still working every day after school until 6:00, so I had no free time. Now I have lots of time, but no more paychecks. From the summer, the money I saved, I'll use for our Chorus's trip to Florida for a festival competition, and a trip to France during my Junior year. I'm even planning to visit Utah next summer. Overall this has been a great year.

Love,

Kim

Dear Evrybody,

<any body that has this book>

I am taking piano lessons Patrick is and pamela is and I can play on the pinao these songs Jolly Old Saint Nicholas, Up On The House Top, We Wish You A Merry Christmas and Jingle Bells. My pinao teacher's name is Mrs.Dufford.

I am planing on geting evrybody two things. Last year I got a toy truck that has the lights light up and I got a wacth from stant claus and for my birthday I got a wacth and got a game from Pamela and from Melissa I got a toy car.

Love,

Oliver Wade Black

Hi all you family members, this is PATRICK BLACK, coming to you from the far for some,close for some, away place of Conn. With an erjent letter for the news seakers. I have a feeling that most of the news has been told by the rest of my family, and what I wnat to say might make a few people unhappy, so I'll stop here.

WITH LOVE

Dear Family,

Another year is almost gone and mom reminded us that it was time to write our family history. Last year we did not quite make it to the family book, and since we got married before last Christmas I guess you would like to know how we met.

It just happened that we were in the same BYU ward as Leisha and Evan and Guy got to go with Evan to home teach me, so we met. A few days after that visit we started dating and the rest is history.

I spent the summer before we got married at Guy's home and my parents met us in Washington D.C. the day before the wedding. It was a wonderful experience to get married in such a beautiful Temple, and to have our families with us.

After our reception we went back we found out I was expecting a baby, and of course after nine months Richard Allen was born. Even though I have to accept the fact that my pregnancy was not one of the best pregnancies in the world, we sure enjoyed the day Richard was born.

We had the chance to spend the Thanksgiving holidays in Connecticut, and finally everybody in the family met the baby. There is not much left to say, but that Richard is already five months and he will be six on the thirteenth of December; Guy will be graduating in April and going to Law School next September, and I am just enjoying being a mom until the chance to go back to school at least part time comes around.

We truly wish you all a Merry Christmas,

Love,

STEVE, LAURA and AMY GORDON

This year has been one of great changes in our lives. Steve had been dissatisfied with the career potential of his job in California for quite some time, and after unsuccessfully searching for new employment there, we spent our entire vacation last Christmas in Connecticut actively pursuing a new job for Steve. Laura spent two weeks before Steve got here sending out resumes, checking job listings, and lining up interviews. And Steve spent his two weeks going to interviews every day. We enjoyed visiting with the family, but it really wasn't a vacation for us. Shortly after we returned to California we received a job offer with Aetna Life and Casualty in Hartford, Connecticut, in the tax accounting department, which Steve accepted. We spent the next two weeks packing, lining up a mover to take our belongings, making airline arrangements, and saying goodbye to many friends whom we had grown to love in the time we had been there. It was a difficult decision for us to make to uproot once again, but we felt it was for the best in the long run.

After arriving in Connecticut, we found that with a little help from friends and relatives we could come up with a large enough down payment to buy a condo for about the same amount as we would pay for rent in a small apartment. It was really a dream come true for us to be able to afford a small place of our own. Real estate was looking very much out of our price range in California, but with the slight increase in wages by coming here, we were amazed what we could actually afford. The bank wasn't convinced that we were making enough to pay for the place, so Laura went back to work part-time so that our total income was large enough to get a loan, which also helped us come up with a little more for the down-payment. We were fortunate to be living with Laura's family while we were waiting for our closing, and they helped care for Amy while Laura worked.

Steve found he really enjoyed and still enjoys his new job. There is always a challenge, he enjoys the people he works with, and the company has a reputation in the insurance industry for treating their employees very well. He is looking forward to staying with the company for many years to come, and advancing up to management level. He will be starting graduate school in the MBA program in January at the company's expense.

In July Laura was asked by her employer to begin working full-time, as the group home was closing down and all of his employees were quitting to find other jobs. He also agreed to let her bring Amy with her to work each day, which helped make it easier on Laura to go back to work full-time. It was an intense three months on all of us, as our lives had to go on hold while Laura worked. There was more than one week that her hours totaled more than 60, and many weeks Steve came and worked in the evenings as well after he had spent a full day at Aetna. But we made it through, and instead of suffering from the experience, Amy seems to have grown up socially because of it. She seems better able to adapt to new experiences and changes in her life now than she was before.

With both of us working we were also able to pay off most of the people who helped us with our down-payment, and felt very good about being financially independent. But we were very grateful when the day finally came that the group home closed down and Laura could go back to being a full-time wife and homemaker, and actually have dinner on the table when Steve got home from work. Working was a learning experience for all of us, but perhaps the most important thing we learned was that we did not want to have a two career family, and that Laura's time in the home was much more valuable than the increase in income by having her work.

Our time since the group home closed has been very busy with new church callings. Steve was called as ward mission leader in September, and has been amazed at the number of meetings he now attends just to meet the bare minimum requirements of his calling. But he also enjoys the challenge of getting to know the new converts and continuing the fellowshiping process after their conversion. Our ward has been the highest baptizing unit in the stake in the three years since it was organized, but over half of those new converts are now inactive. So one of Steve's goals is to reactivate those who have gone inactive, and fellowship new converts so that they become fully integrated into the ward before they have a chance to become inactive.

Laura was called as the Stake History Specialist, a new calling which replaced the stake historical clerk. She was asked to compile and write a history of the spiritual doings within the stake each year which show that we are helping others Come Unto Christ. We could fill pages with her experiences in this calling, but let it suffice to say that it has been a growing opportunity, and a calling she is finally beginning to enjoy. Since September she has been attending ward conferences with the stake presidency and addressing the leadership session about the importance of recording spiritual events as they occur and compiling them for posterity. The stake president also helped her out by addressing a letter to be read in each congregation concerning the importance of recording and submitting spiritual experiences for the stake history. It has been no small project. The 1987 history which she completed after the fact was over 30 pages, and already the information she has collected for 1988 is more than 60 typewritten single spaced computer pages.

Laura was also called to be the Primary choirster, and has really enjoyed this calling as she works with the children to help them develop a love of good music. Unfortunately her increased travel schedule with her stake calling has begun to interfere with her Primary calling, so there is a possibility that the Primary President will replace her, but she hopes to continue in the calling as long as possible.

Amy is growing up so fast that we no longer have a baby in the house. She will be two in March, and if the doctor is right, she will have a new baby brother or sister as a birthday present. One of her favorite activities is to have us read books to her. She speaks very well, and understands everything we say to her, (she doesn't always obey, but she does understand.) She knows all of her colors, and counts to ten fairly well. She is also learning the alphabet song, and loves to sing songs of all kinds. She is starting to become very independent, and wants to select her own clothes, and put them on herself. She will also tell us what book she wants to read, what songs she wants to sing, and what food she wants to eat. She hasn't been potty-trained yet, but it probably won't be long, as she tells us she has to go to the bathroom about half of the time, but never lets us know in enough time to get her diaper off. She is really a joy to have around, and we are glad we did not give her up for adoption like we had joked about doing when she was so colicky as a baby.

We are looking forward to returning to California at Christmastime this year for our first real vacation since we have been married. We are also working together on starting a part-time bookkeeping business out of our home in time for Steve to do taxes for people this tax season. We are all well and hope you are the same. Have a wonderful holiday season!

Love,
Steve, Laura and Amy Gordon
